Wilson Says Services May Be Cut But Will Need More Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson says the armed forces may be reduced a little in size next year but will need nearly two billion dollars more than this year.

Wilson indicated at a news conference Friday the number of men in uniform next year may be from 100,000 to 168,000 below the present strength of 2,800,000 men.

But defense spending is expected to incraese 4 to 6 per cent, in the range of from 1½ to two billion dollars, over the present 36½ billion dollar rate, he added. The increase will be "certainly less than 10 per cent," he said.

Asked whether the present Air Force goal of 137 wings by next June 30 will be reduced, he replied "I don't think anybody knows at the moment."

Without mentioning the Democratic presidential nominee by name, Wilson criticized suggestions by Adlai E. Stevenson that this country take the lead in seeking to halt H-bomb tests if other atomic powers agree, and that the possibility of ending the draft may be approaching.

"I think that both these things are irresponsible approaches to some very practicle and realistic matters," Wilson replied to a question.

Wilson said atomic weapons control has been discussed at high levels and "there is nothing on a unilateral basis that we can safely do that will affect this business."

As for the draft, he said, he does not believe that more than one half the present uniformed strength could be kept up without it.

word for it—the President had in effect asked for his selection."

Stevenson made this statements at an impromptu news conference at the airport. Stevenson left shortly afterward for his Libertyville farm, where he said he expected to "pick out some sheep to sell," and rest up for his next campaign trip.

It starts next Tuesday and will take him by whistle-stopping train through Michigan, and northern Ohio, and by airplane to Kentucky and Indiana, winding up at South Bend next Saturday at the Notre Dame-Michigan State football game.

Stevenson's call for ending H-bomb tests was his big gun in his 5-day aerial stumping tour of the Far West. The total 55 electoral votes all went to Eisenhow-34 in 1952.

Made These Points

In his windup speech last night at San Diego he sought to make these other points before a cheering crowd of 4,700.

1. Eisenhower has failed as a leader and, if re-elected, would be "a lame duck president" since law prohibits a third term. Therefore a vote for Eisenhower is a vote for Vice President Nixon as "the new head of the Republican party."

2. Eisenhower is a Republican "indistinguishable" from the party leadership and "the Republican old guard still rides high." He said after a few feeble tries at it Eisenhower evidently long since has given up the job of making over the Republican party.

3. Under Eisenhower national policy is "stalled or dead center," there is "a paralysis of will" and "something has gone out of American life . . . something that gave people's lives meaning and dignity."

The youths had been in the detention room in Columbiana County jail but were turned over to juvenile officers from Warren this morning.

Proposed Regulations For Ohio Optometrists Hit Legal Snag

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Proposed new regulations for the state's optometrists hit a legal snag today and a hearing on the new rules was called off abruptly.

Mervyn Kauhl of Cleveland, president of the State Board of Optometry, said as interested persans gathered for the hearing that because of a legal question on the board's procedure, "It would serve no purpose to hold the hearing at this time."

Kauhl told a questioner from the audience the decision to cancel the hearing was reached Friday night at a meeting of the board at a Columbus hotel.

Asked directly by newsmen whether the board also reached a definite decision to refile the proposed new regulations with the secretary of state, Kauhl replied: "No."

In advance of the scheduled hearing, the proposed new rules had come under attack by the Ohio Newspaper Assn. (ONA). The ONA president, G. Gordon Strong, who also is president of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., had declared the regulations "would provide for censorship of advertising and would be in direct contradiction to many advertising methods and practices widely used and accepted in the advertising field today."

The newspaper group said the new regulations would seek to restrict competition within the optometry field and eliminate all types of advertising, including price of spectacles, except such minimum advertising as may be approved by the optometry board.

The legal snag on which the board based its decision to cancel the hearing was this:

The Administrative Procedures Act requires proposed regulations to be filed with the secretary of state. The optometry board's rules go further and require that the time and place of the hearing on such proposed rules be filed with the regulations when they are deposited with the secretary of state. The board, however, failed to follow its own rule and the time and place of the hearing were not mentioned in the documents filed with the secretary of state.

The attorney general's office advised the board the failure to follow its own rules placed any action it might take in jeopardy.

Tallamy To Head U.S. Road Construction

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Bertram D. Tallamy says his new job as head of an all-out, nationwide highway-construction program will be "a terrific challenge."

President Eisenhower appointed Tallamy Friday to direct the federal operation that has a budget of 33 billion dollars—most of it for a 41,000-mile network of interstate highways.

The new road boss is 54, silver-haired, husky, married and the father of one son, also an engineer.

Tallamy is a 1925 graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, a Republican, onetime New York public works chief and, since 1950, the guiding force behind the world's longest toll superhighway—the New York State Thruway.

Tallamy's appointment is subject to Senate confirmation. He'll serve at the pleasure of the President and will report to Secretary of Commerce Weeks, who called the new highway boss "one of the world's greatest builders of roads."

"I got the head of the biggest company I could go to, General Motors, and said, 'will you come in and do this for us?' I think he has been doing a good job."

In contrast, then, he mentioned Secretary of Agriculture Benson and pictured him as a man "I suppose, (who) hasn't a cent. . . . I know he is a poor man." The President added:

"Now, that is the kind of people we have, all kinds of people, in that cabinet, and I assure you that they are doing one thing—they are working day and night for your benefit, yours and mine."

Eisenhower held his TV news conference a few hours after the White House announced he has addd two more speeches to his campaign schedule—a major address in New York's Madison Square Garden the evening of Oct. 25, and an informal mid-day talk at Denver's airport Oct. 19. The latter talk is an addition to those he will make on a tour to the West Coast starting next Tuesday.

Tonight the President will make still another appearance on nationwide TV — 9 p.m., EST, CBS. He will take part in a half hour program marking celebration of his 66th birthday on Sunday.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A plaque bearing a message from the mayor of Genoa, Italy, was unveiled at a Columbus Day observance here Friday. The plaque was attached to a statue of Christopher Columbus, Genoa's famous son. The statue, unveiled a year ago, was donated to this city by citizens of Genoa.

Cpl. R. J. Bille Convicted Of Hitting Recruit

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Cpl. Richard J. Bille, convicted by a special court-martial of slugging a recruit, insisted at this Marine training depot today that "I didn't do it. What more can I say?"

Bille, 21-year-old former bakery worker from Erie, Pa., was sentenced Friday to two months imprisonment at hard labor and forfeiture of $65 of his pay for two months. He also will be reduced to private.

The charges were brought by Pvt. Donald Hamisfar of Norwalk, Ohio. Hamisfar said Bille punched him in the stomach because he did not say "sir" to the corporal. Hamisfar entered the U.S. Naval Hospital at nearby Beaufort five days after the run-in with Bille. Medical officers operated on him for a hernia condition, saying Hamisfar was born with it. They could not say, however, whether the condition was aggravated by a blow in the stomach.

"What can I say. As well as I remember it, I didn't do it. I think I pushed him, but I didn't punch him."

Hamisfar had testified that while his platoon was drawing equipment, Bille, a supply corporal, held up a haversack and asked whether the recruit had it. Hamisfar said he replied he did not have one.

Then, Hamisfar testified, Bille punched him in the stomach.

Bille's testimony and that of several others differed. Bille said Hamisfar actually was standing on a haversack when he asked the question, and that he pushed the recruit off the package, at the same time stooping to pick it up.

Leetonia Rips Clippers 32-0

By GORDON ARNDT

It was a familar story for Leetonia High School football fans last night at Columbiana.

Not only did they witness the Bears in an easy 32 - 0 win over the offensive-less Clippers, but they beheld a brilliant display of football versatility on the part of the victors' over worked halfback, Bob Peet.

Besides scoring four touchdowns and one extra point, the hard-charging 165 pounder averaged 5.5 yards in 20 carries, ran back a punt 51 yars, returned a kickoff for 41 more, and caught a pass for 13 other yards.

Leetonia scored the first time they took possession of the pigskin. The Bears had kicked off and Columbiana, unable to originate any offense, punted to Leetonia's 38 yard line.

Five first downs and 58 yards later the victors had a new series starting from the Clippers four yard marker. On his third straight try, Peet cracked over from the one. Joe Mango's attempt for the Bear's seventh point failed.

LOU ALTOMARE AND Jim Rance took turns recovering Columbiana fumbles immediately after Leetonia had kicked off. Unable to click with their first advantage, the Leetonians were not cut short on their second attempt. Mango gained four yards on the first two downs and mixed in with his team's five-yard offisde infraction, the ball rested 24 yards away from the Clippers' goal line.

Peet made that up in short time as he skirted around left end to give Leetonia a 12-0 lead. Nicolette handed off again to his right halfback and Columbiana was behind two touchdowns and one conversion.

Mango set up the third touchdown for Coach Pat Mancuso's proteges late in the second frame when he returned a punt by Columbiana's Marion Heck 38 yards to the Clippers 30.

Shortly afterward it was No. 40 again for Leetonia as Peet culminated a six-play scoring thrust by crossing into paydirt from one yard out. Mango ran the extra point and Leetonia was ahead, 19-0.

The Bears' Tom Hartley kicked off for the fourth time and for the first time in the penalty riddled contest, the Clippers put together a pattern of offensive manuevers which carried them 50 yards from their 40 to the Bears 10.

HOWEVER, THE BEARS' John Fieldhouse put an end to the losers' attempt to enter the scoring column by intercepting a pass thrown by Columbiana's John Murphy and returning it to his own 13 just as the half came to a close.

Columbiana kicked off to start the third quarter. Peet gathered the ball in on his own 17 and he wasn't caught until he reached the Clippers' 42. The winners couldn't make the most of this run by their star halfback, and Albert Kornbau punted out of bounds on his opponents' 14.

The Clippers made one first down while on the offense but were then forced to punt from their 30. Much to Columbiana's dismay, Heck kicked the ball in the direction of Peet again, and this time No. 40 ran the pigskin back 51 yards from his 30 to the losers 19.

Nicolette picked up 14 in a pair of carries and, coupled with Mango's four yard thrust, the ball was a yard away from LLeetonia's fourth score. On the next play Peet crashed over for his 82nd point of the year and Leetonia had widened their margin over the Clippers to 25-0. The conversion try failed, and Hartley kicked off again for Leetonia.

THE BEARS' FIFTH surge into paydirt came about after the visitors' Harley intercepted a Murphy aerial to give Leetonia possession on their own 46. Despite a plague of 15 yard penalties, the victors marched 54 yards in 10 plays across their foes' final yard marker, with Nicolette culminating the drive on a keep play from 16 yards out.

Paul Morris was in the right spot for his signal caller's pass and Leetonia tacked on their second extra point of the evening. The scoreboard now showed Columbiana behind, 32-0.

After the kickoff the home forces put together their second long drive of the night, moving from their 30 to Leetonia's 18 on yard eating aerials by Heck and Murphy. Here again the Bears' Fieldhouse put a damper on the Clippers' hopes by intercepting Murphy's pass in the end zone and returning it to his 18.

Columbiana went on the offense when Tom Arbuckle intercepted a Nicolette heave and returned it to Leetonia's 46. Four Clipper passes failed, but the home eleven got a break and a first down on the Bear's 21 when Leetonia was again penalized 15 yards. The yame came to a close shortly after Columbiana had clicked on one of two more aerials to move within striking distance at the Bears 14.

Don Larsen Tries Hand At Acting

The huge New York Yankee righthander who looks even bigger than his 6 feet 4, is here to appear with Bob Hope on a television show Oct. 21. Reputedly he will get $7,500 for the stint.

How does he feel about it all?

"There's been so much going on," said Larsen, "I haven't even had time for a beer in peace."

Larsen got in from New York Friday night and was properly introduced to Hollywood at the airport by a pair of embryo starlets garbed in not much.

He was rushed to a National Broadcasting Co. studio across town and presented to Hope, and a blonde garbed in a tight pair of shocking pink Capri pants and slouchy denim jacket.

Later the blonde changed to a black, scanty evening gown and Don inquired, "What was the girl's name?"

The blonde's name was Diana Dors a specialty from England and a co-star on Hope's program.

"It's easy. Just 'feel' the words," said one.

Don read them. A veteran of comic books second only to Yogi Berra of the Yankees, Don read them well enough, even if he didn't perhaps "feel" them at the moment.

"This is kinda new to me," he admitted.

Visitors departed. Said one, "Twelve o'clock curfew, Don."

Smith Faces Romack In Amateur Golf Semifinals

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Wiffie Smith and Barbara Romack, two young but experienced golfing veterans, collide today in the feature semifinal of the Trans-mississippi Amateur championship on the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course.

Polly Riley, the defending Trans - Miss champ from Ft. Worth, Tex., meets Mrs. James Ferrie, a two-time California state titleholder from Gardena, Calif., in the other 18-hole semi.

Barbara, 23-year-old Sacramento, Calif. blonde, and the redhaired Wiffie, a Texan from Orange, both went two over par Friday in winning quarterfinal matches. Mary Sargent of Pebble Beach lost to Barbara 6 and 4 as Wiffie was downing Mrs. Stradon Loveys, Los Angeles, 2 and 1.

Polly, a five-year Curtis Cup member, disposed of Mrs. Ruth McCullah, Santa Monica, Calif. grandmother, 5 and 3. Mrs. Ferrie, a golfer for 22 years, made good use of her experience to defeat Barbara Williams, 18, of Richmond, Calif., 1 up.

Blue Devils Roll Over Sebring

33-7 Loss Is Fifth For Trojan Squad

The Lisbon Blue Devils handed the Sebring Trojans their fifth straight loss of the season 33-7 in a one-sided game played Friday night at Lisbon.

Halfback Oren Liber paced the Blue Devil attack, scoring three touchdowns. Liber rammed over on a couple of plunges and scored another TD on a 42-yard run.

Halfbacks Denny Johnson and Wilford Carlisle accounted for the other six-pointer for Lisbon.

Lisbon tallied two touchdowns in the first period and one each in the other three.

The hapless Trojans scored their lone touchdown in the third period when halfback Carl Stillwagon carried over from three yards out. Art Tuel tallied the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

The victory gives the Blue Devils a 2 win-2 loss-1 tie record for the season.

Sebring will play its next game Friday when the Trojans meet the Columbiana Clippers on the formers' field.

Lisbon will play Louisville there next Friday.

Dodgers Play In Hawaii En Route To Japan

HONOLULU (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers arrived here today to play a three game series before continuing to Japan for a series before continuing to Japan for a series against Japan's mightiest baseball players.

The Bums took smallpox shots and attended a reception at the Royal Hawaiian hotel.

Manager Walter Alston said he would field a "name" team of the World Series veterans in Japan but said he "might try a few experiments" with some topflight young talent he brought along.

Alston said he expects Jackie Robinson "probably" will return for spring training next year to play with the Dodgers once more.

Leahy Favors Open Aid To Football Players

"The lads deserve the help," Leahy said Friday.

"Football players should be given scholarships to cover the necessities — no more and no less," Leahy said. "It would do away with hypocrisy"

Linder Scores 5 TDs As East Palestine Trounces Salem 41-6

Bulldog Defense Snarls Quakers

E. Palestine Fullback Has Scored 16 TDs

By BOB McARTOR

Jim Linder, a 190-pound fullback on the East Palestine football eleven, who is all man, all football, and All-Ohio material ran wild last night, scoring five touchdowns to lead East Palestine to a 41-6 win over the Salem Quakers in what looked more like a track meet than a football game.

Linder, a senior and captain of the Palestine team, now has scored 16 TDs in five games, and nine in the last two. He gained a total of 115 yards in 19 carries for six yard per carry average. Running with great power and drive, he often carried three or four men until he was thrown off balance.

But added to this, the East Palestine team is a unit of eleven men working with everything they've got to win. Spirit and determination are the leading factors in their success thus far and it runs through every man from the first stringers down to the last scrub.

BALL CONTROL in the first half led a 27-0 halftime score for the Bulldogs. Salem ran a total of nine plays in the first two periods gaining a total of only 13 yards from scrimmage. The largest gain in the first period was a one-yard plunge by fullback Larry Hepler on one of Salem's four opening quarter plays.

East Palestine won the toss and elected to receive, defending the north goal. The kickoff was taken by Tommy Young, Bulldog quarterback, and returned to the 50 yard line. Here the foe started a 13 play drive, led by Linder who ran the ball six times.

The surge was capped by a six yard touchdown run with the "iron man" carrying two would-be Salem tacklers with him to pay dirt. Adding the extra point on a line plunge, Linder made the score East Palestine 7-0 six minutes into the first period.

THE BULLDOGS then kicked off to Salem with Ralph Ehrhart bringing the ball back to the 26. Here the ball died. The Palestine defense, which has had a total of three TDs scored against it this season, dug in and in three plays the Quakers found themselves exactly where they started, on the 26.

This set up a familiar situation with the Bulldogs on the 50, and in eight plays from scrimmage, which were mixed up well by Young, the Bulldogs' Linder went in for his second TD of the night and again he added the extra point, dropping the Quakers back 14-0 seconds into the second period.

Linder kicked off to Lani Waiwaiole on the 10. Lani returned to the 19 and in one play ran to the 24. On the next play a Salem pass from Joe Bryan was intercepted by Larry Britton on the 35 and taken back to the Quaker 16. Four plays and another Linder touchdown later Salem was trailing 21-0.

Again the foe kicked off and in a blink of the eye and a fumble, the Palestine "Blitzkreig" was unleashed once more. Commencing from the 31 the first play went to the Salem 21 and first and ten. A fine run to the three-yard line by Dave Heck was recalled to the 19 due to a clipping penalty on Palestine.

However this did not mar the polished offense as Linder romped to the two yard line and in one play piled his way into the end zone and TD number four for "Old Faithful."

WITH FIVE MINUTES left in the first half and the Red and Blaok trailing 27-0, the Quaker offensive machine bogged down on the 20 and a punt got Salem out of the jam.

Palestine tried desperately to score and almost made it as Linder dove head first into the end zone on a pass from Young, but the referee ruled his knee touched on the one and with that the first half came to a close.

The second half was nearly a repeat performance of the first. Salem took the kickoff and on the very first play a quick pass intended for Roy Yeager from Bryan was picked off on the 21 of Salem. In nine plays Palestine produced their fifth TD on an end sweep by Young five minutes into the third period.

Once again the Bulldog kickoff was taken by Salem and once again the offense produced nothing as the foe took the ball on a punt and marched 58 yards to their sixth TD of the game. The score was made by Linder who went over his guard and with a tremendous burst of speed streaked through the secondary and outran a lone defender in a 45 yard race to score.

THE BRUCEMEN tallied their lone touchdown two minutes into the final period as a combination of a 24-yard pass play from Meissner to Ehrhart and a one yard plunge by Ehrhart set the score at 41-6. The extra point attempt was blocked, as the Bulldogs kept alive their tradition of allowing only six points per game, if the opponent scores at all.

The remainder of the last period was used up with Palestine on control of the ball. Victorious coach John Hogan used every player in uniform in the game with the second and third stringers seeing considerable action in the final quarter.

Next week the Salemites will face the Wellsville Bengals at Reilly Stadium in the renewal of a spirited rivalry which has been going on for many years. Wellsville has not beaten the Quakers in 13 years.

Player Pulls Out Tooth With Pliers, Plays Again

NEW ULM, Minn. (AP) —Tackle Harry Kuehn, a 195-pounder, was in tears when he had to leave a bruising game between Holy Trinity High School and Faribault Bethlehem Academy because of a broken tooth.

When he saw Bethlehem score a touchdown over his position, he called for a string to pull out the broken tooth. None was available, so trainer Tom Manderfeld provided a pair of mechanic's pliers used to tighten cleats.

Kuehn yanked out the tooth with the pliers. When the bleeding stopped, he returned to the game and sparked his team to a 26-6 win.

DeMarco Is Favored Over Kid Gavilan

BOSTON (AP) — A title match was the goal of former welterweight champions Tony DeMarco and Kid Gavilan as they prepared for their scheduled 10 round fight tonight at Boston Garden.

Gavilan, the Cuban Keed, picked up tremendously in his last few days of gym workouts — then said he purposely had held back in the early drills because he was afraid the DeMarco camp would pull out.

In fact, Gavilan suddenly became so impressive the odds on DeMarco dropped quickly from 3-to 1 to 10-7 and some observers felt it would be down to 6 - 5 by fight time.

DeMarco, the 24-year-old slugger from Boston's north end, still considered the hardest hitter in the welter division, seeks the crown he won from Johnny Saxton and lost to Carmen Basilio 60 days later in 1955.

The 30 - year - old Cuban cutie with the famed bolo punch wants the title just as much. Gavilan insists he was "jobbed" when he lost a 15-round decision and his title to Saxton in October of 1954. Further, says the Kid, Saxton's manager and the IBC refused to honor a return bout clause so he was denied a chance to regain the title.

The contract for tonight's bout, which will not be televised or broadcast, calls for a 148 pound weight limit for both contestants. Neither expected any trouble weighing in under that figure.

Summer Tan Is Favored In $100,000 Gold Cup

CHICAGO (AP) — Summer Tan and Dedicate, a couple of Eastern thoroughbreds, were favored to run one-two in today's $100,000 Gold Cup feature race which closes the Hawthorne meeting.

Summer Tan, owned by Mrs. John Galbreath, and who will be ridden by Dave Erb, comes off a victory in the Vosburgh Handicap at Belmont. Summer Tan will tote 119 pounds for the 1¼ mile race.

Dedicate, owned by Mrs. Jan Burke, is top-weighted with 120 pounds and will be ridden by Bill Boland. Dedicate has won two important stakes — the Brooklyn Handicap and the Whitney Stakes.

Also entered are Hasseyampa, last year's winner, Ja Ja, Tussle Patch, Nonnie Jo, Sea O Erin, Social Outcast and Traffic Judge.

Cleveland —Rory Calhoun, 160½ White Plains, N. Y., stopped John L. Sullivan, 162, England, 8.

A senior, Miss Liebhart, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Frank of 491 Perry St., will receive the crown from last year's queen, Miss Judy Weingart.

Nashua Makes Final Racing Start Today

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Nashua bids goodbye to racing today in the Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont Park, after which the 2-year-old stars tackle the rich Futurity Stakes on an afternoon reeking in tradition and greenbacks.

The sparkling program promises a big afternoon with seven horses in the Gold Cup, and 14 in the Futurity, but overall looms the shadow of the great sire—Nasrullah.

Perhaps never before in this country have the sons of one stallion dominated two such major stakes races, with Nasrullah having sired three starters in each race — including the two top choices in both events.

Nashua, who is making the 30th and final start of his colorful career, is expected to rule a 4-5 choice in the two-mile Gold Cup with Mister Gus next at 5-2.

In the Futurity, six and one half furlongs down the Widener straight course, Bold Ruler is favored at 6-5, with the entry of Nashville and Blue Spruce next at 5-2.

The 4-year-old Nashua, 5-year-old Mister Gus, and the two juveniles, Bold Ruler and Nashville, all are sons of Nasrullah. So are the Cain Hoy Stable's Flying Fury, the Manhattan Handicap winner, who goes in the Gold Cup, and George D. Widener's Amarullah, a Futurity candidate.

Eddie Arcaro will try for his seventh Gold Cup with Nashua, and his fifth Futurity aboard Bold Ruler, winner of six races in seven starts.

The futurity will gross $125,595, with the winner netting $91,895 provided all start, and if seven go in the Gold Cup, it will be worth $54,700, with $36,600 to the winner.

Bowling Scores

Individual high 3-game total went to Howard Kerr, who was also high for a single game total. He had 596 for the series and 233 for the single game. Second for the three game total was Howard Schaefer, 577, third went to George Walker 541. Clarence Fuller had 225, and Allen Morgart, 211.

In the National Division, Goshen Grange and Sell Service are tied for first place, replacing S. & H. Candy, now in second place.

Williamson's had 2416 for high total for 3 games. Sell Service No. 2 was second with 2397. Knights of Pythias rolled 2291 for third place.

Individual scores for both 3 games and 1 game totals went to Gene Dean who rolled 585 and 234. Second place went to Carl Morenz, 561, and Dick Ingledue finished third with 560, for three games. Second for the single effort was Willard Crowl 213, and third was Carl Morenz, 213.

Stengel, Signed For 2 More Years, Hunts 3rd Outfielder

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that his own status has been resolved — he's going to be back at the helm for two more years — manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees today turned to ways and means of keeping the World Championship banner flying over Yankee Stadium.

"Right now," he rasped, "our weak spot is left field. If we made a trade, it will be for another outfielder. I'm set with Hank Bauer in right and Mickey Mantle in center."

About 40-year-old Enos Slaughter, Stengel said he doesn't plan to go along with him for another year, adding that he is reserving the right to change his mind.

"After all," he said, "we bought him in the first place for insurance and pinch hitting."

Stengel signed a new two-year contract Friday, calling for about $75,000 a year.

"A lot of people have been saying I'm getting old and ought to quit, winked the 66-year-old pilot who has won six world championships in eight years with the Bombers. "But I don't see why I should retire when my health is good. And it's as good right now as it was in the spring."

Stengel is independently wealthy and does not have to worry about his baseball income these days. In addition to other holdings, he owns several oil wells that net him a pretty penny.

Stengel revealed that he was going to pay close attention to the no-windup pitching delivery in the spring.

Don Larsen used it in his perfect no-hitter against the Brooklyn Dodgers in the Series and Bob Turley employed it the next day in a 1-0 loss in 10 innings.

"Maybe they've really got something there," he said. "But whether they can stay with it, I don't know. It could be that after the batters get used to it, they'll have to shift back to the windup.

"Also it's my guess that only a strong-armed pitcher can use it. However, it's worth looking into and trying. And judging by the success of Larsen had with it, there are going to be an awful lot of pitchers trying it."

Senators' Directors To Discuss Transfer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of whether the Washington Senators will be moved to another city this year may come to a head next Friday when the club's directors hold their next regular meeting.

Calvin Griffith, president of the American League club, said Friday night that "if I have a concrete proposition, I will submit it to the board at that time."

"As yet," Griffith said, "We have had no offers in writing."

The Senators have received feelers from Los Angeles, San Francisco and Louisville.

Even if a firm proposal should come in by the Oct. 19 meeting, several obstacles would seem to make unlikely any shift of the franchise at least until after next season.

For one thing, the league would have to approve any move for the coming season before Oct. 31 — only 12 days after the next directors' meeting here.

Furthermore, H. Gabriel Murph, the Senators' treasurer and holder of a 40 per cent interest in the team, has threatened possible legal action to block any move to another city.

Griffith conceded Murphy could "slap an injunction on us and delay any shift of our franchise."

U.S. Olympic Team To Compete Today

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—America's finest Olympic track and field team sharpens up in an invitational meet today with the top performers mindful they still can be bumped by formidable competition.

It is an Olympic Games "preview," sponsored by the San Francisco Chronicle to help pay the team's expenses to and from the Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia next month.

Making up the team are the three top qualifiers in each event in the final trials in Los Angeles last June 30, plus an alternate in each event who will make the trip if one of the top three is ill or otherwise indisposed.

But the heat will be on all of them. Coach Jim Kelly of Minnesota has made it clear any of the athletes can be bumped if he has failed to maintain the standard displayed in the final trials last summer.

Five of the nine athletes competing against the squad members are hopeful of nudging into a place on the team, an outfit that includes ten world record holders.

Ratterman Believes He's Hitting Stride

CLEVELAND (AP) — Quarterback George Ratterman of the Cleveland Browns thinks he's beginning to hit his stride, and Sunday's home opener with the New York Giants may tell whether he's right.

Playing regularly is bound to help him, Ratterman feels.

"When Otto (Graham) was here," he explained, "I'd get keyed up before a game—you always do. Then I wouldn't play and there was no way to release the tension. I tried to do it the other way, not get myself keyed up, but then I got worried about that. Suppose I was all loose and relaxed and something happened to Otto. Well, I wouldn't be mentally ready. It was sort of being in-between.

"It stands to reason you get more practice passing under game conditions. Look, you can give a kid a book to read on how to bat or how to field, but he won't learn unless he tries it. You have to pass under pressure conditions to do it well."

Scheffing Fires All Of Hack's Cub Coaches

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Scheffing, newly appointed manager of the Chicago Cubs, doesn't have much experience but that doesn't keep him from being a fast worker.

Scheffing, 41, fired all three coaches who served under ex-manager Stan Hack Friday shortly after he received his appointment.

A former catcher with the Chicago Cubs, Scheffing led the Los Angeles Angels to the pennant in the Pacific Coast League this season. His first act as Cub manager was to request the resignations of coaches Ray Blades, Pepper Martin and Dutch Leonard.

Scheffing did not name his own coaches immediately.

His appointment completed a reorganization move by the Cubs. The Cubs Thursday accepted the resignations of Hack, business manager Jim Gallagher and personnel director Wid Matthews.

John Holland, who was Scheffing's boss at Los Angeles, was named vice president as was Charlie Grimm, former manager of Milwaukee and the Cubs.

Scheffing has had three years experience as a minor league manager. He was player-manager of Washington, Pa., of the Penn State Assn. in 1939 and managed Los Angeles the last two seasons. Scheffing was a catcher with the Cubs from 1941 through 1950.

He was traded to Cincinnati in 1951 and finished the season with the St. Louis Cardinals. The following year he became a coach with the St. Louis Browns and in 1954 he joined the Cubs as a coach.

3 Top Ohio Teams Defeated Friday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three teams in the upper echelon of Ohio scholastic football circles went down to defeat Friday night, one for the first time this season.

Toledo Libbey, ranked third in The Associated Press weekly poll, fell before a city rival, Toledo Scott, 21-12. Libbey was previously unbeaten in four contests.

Massillon, second on the list, dumped Cleveland Benedictine, the No . 10 team, 27-7. The loss gave Benedictine a 2-2 mark.

First-ranked Canton McKinley and sixth-place Cleveland St. Ignatius tangle today.

In contests involving others in the elite 10, fifth-place East Cleveland Shaw whipped Lakewood, 33-12, eighth-rated Troy nipped Dayton Fairmont, 7-6, and Youngstown Ursuline, ninth - ranked, defeated Alliance, 21-7.

Salem Youth Stars On University Team

He recently finished second in a dual meet with Case Tech. It was the first meeting for both schools, Kent State winning 34-21.

Rory Calhoun Stops Sullivan

Winner Credits His Hard Body Punches

The 22-year-old White Plains, N. Y., slugger, currently No. 6 among the middleweight contenders, had Sullivan a dazed and helpless target when referee Jackie Davis halted the fight nine seconds into the eighth round.

It was a straight right to he jaw that floored Sullivan for a three-count which the bell interrupted at the end of the seventh and it was a trio of rights to the jaw that preceded the stopping of the scheduled 10-rounder.

But Sullivan himself said in the dressing room afterward that "The hardest punch of the fight" was a left hook that thudded squarely into his stomach early in the seventh round. After that one landed it was just a matter of how much time Calhoun would need to finish his game opponent.

"Those body punches wear you down," Calhoun observed in summing up his winning technique. 'Most of those European fighters have good defenses, but they keep guarding their head. I went for his body and figured he'd start slowing up from those punches."

The victory was the 24th in 25 fights for Calhoun who weighed 160½ to Sullivan's 162. The bout was nationally televised.

Miami, Fla., Beats Maryland Terps 13-6

By The Associated Press

In another game, this a Southern Conference tussle, Richmond came from behind to nip The Citadel, 7-3.

Miami passed for both its touchdowns in racking up its third straight victory. Quarterback Sam Scarnecchia tossed a 23-yarder to John Bookman in the second period, and Bonnie Yarborough passed 6 yards to Jack Johnson for the other score in the third quarter.

Maryland drove 80 yards through the rain for its lone touchdown in the fourth quarter. Fred Petrelia scored on a one - yard plunge, but it wasn't enough to prevent the Terps from absorbing their third defeat. They have won only once.

A touchdown by fullback Buddy Davis in the third period was all Richmond needed to overcome a 3-0 citadel lead.

Portsmouth Has No Telephones

Strike Negotiations Again At Impasse

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—This strife-torn Ohio River city has a telephone blackout today for the second time in less than a month.

Negotiations between the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. and the striking Communications Workers of America (CWA) are seemingly at an impasse. Gov. Frank J. Lausche is the only man who can end the strike, the company indicated.

Company officials announced that they would not attend a state industrial commission hearing Wednesday which was called to allow each side to air its grievances.

The company said it set up temporary headquarters in Columbus to serve "the 23 of our 24 counties where telephone service is available."

91-Day Strike

In an earlier statement, Company President C. E. Williams said he believes only "personal intervention by the governor" will bring an end to the 91-day strike.

Gov. Lausche was unavailable for comment.

Williams announced just before 4:30 p. m. (EST) Friday that service to Portsmouth and Scioto-ville was being discontinued.

Later, an official said the blackout also affected the rest of Scioto County and estimated that 17,000 of the company's 58,000 subscribers are without service.

A letter, from company Atty. Sid Griffith to the industrial commission and Gov. Lausche, said Wednesday's hearing would "infringe upon collective bargaining rights secured by federal law."

Using Old Law

In announcing the hearing, the commission said it was following an old but little used law which permits it to step into labor wrangles.

But Griffith maintained the commission has "no jurisdiction in the matter . . . to require either party" to attend the hearing.

Williams expressed regret that service was halted, but said the company had "no other recourse in this reign of terror."

He apparently referred to a demonstration here Thursday night in which the company said 500 persons participated and six company trucks were burned.

Williams said the company will not continue negotiations until the CWA provides an entirely new bargaining team.

"We will not be bludgeoned by the union bargaining committee," he declared.

Union Denies Vandalism

The union has steadfastly denied knowledge of acts of vandalism during the strike. It has argued that it is striking to keep benefits gained through the years.

The earlier three-day telephone blackout at Portsmouth started Sept. 18 after a fight between strikers and company supervisors. It ended three days later with rpresentatives of Gov. Lausche inducing the company and area law enforcement officials to sign an agreement pledging adequate protection for company officials and property.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported Friday night that one of its cables in Portsmouth was sliced, cutting off Associated Press news service to the Portsmouth Times.

And Portsmouth's two radio stations went off the air temporarily Friday night, Ohio Consolidated said. WPAY was off the air for three hours when a cable reportedly was cut, and WNXT was able to operate locally, but lost its network.

The local Western Union office also experienced some difficulty when one of its regular lines was disconnected, apparently when the telephone exchange was closed Ohio Consolidated said.

Dear God . . . there's so much I'd like to say to You. It's that way lots of times. I want to talk to You, and then somehow I get stuck for words.

I guess I do some stupid things, sometimes . . . like that fight with Butch Hendley yesterday. He said something I didn't like and then I said something, and that was it. I guess I won, but afterwards I was kind of ashamed. I told Dad about it last night and he went for a walk with me and we looked up at the sky and the stars. Everything looked so big, all of a sudden, that it scared me. It seemed too big to understand.

Then Dad told me that there are lots of things like the sky and the stars, too big for people to ever understand. And he said that that's where Faith comes in, and that it is good to have the Church to put our trust in.

I got to thinking about that, and I told Dad that I'd kind of like to ask Butch to come to Church with us next Sunday morning, but that I was afraid he wouldn't come. Dad grinned at me and said, "Why not ask him and see?"

Dear God . . . I did ask Butch, and he's coming. Butch hasn't been to Church regularly like I have, so maybe when it comes to praying he'll get stuck for words even worse than I do. But You'll listen to him anyway, won't You? Because he needs You very much . . . just like I do . . . just like all of us do.

Thank You, God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Men Of Means

The minor tempest over which political party has more millionaires in it won't grow into a storm unless someone produces an all-weather definition of a millionaire.

This never has been done. There won't be time before election day to do it this year, to say nothing of the time there wouldn't be to find out how many men in each party measured up to the definition.

But the argument is not really over sums of money. It is over the Democratic claim that sympathy for the rest of us is phony unless it comes from Democrats, the self-proclaimed barefoot boys of politics.

This is supposed to divert attention from the fact Democrats are as well-heeled as the Republicans they deride for owning more than one pair of shoes. Franklin Roosevelt was clipping coupons when men like Alfred Landon, Wendell Willkie and Thomas Dewey were hoarding pennies.

Mr. Stevenson inherited his wealth, as did Averell Harriman, who is said to have spent upward of two million dollars' worth just trying to beat out Mr. Stevenson for the Democratic nomination. G. Mennen Williams, Sen. Lehman of New York, Stuart Symington of Missouri, Sen. Kerr of Oklahoma and many other Democrats are as well off financially as anyone in the Republican party.

Their barefoot-boy pitch is not only mentally dishonest but ludicrous. No one holds it against them for being men of means. Why do they go to so much trouble to divert attention from themselves?

A Zest For Living

In this modern era, we are increasingly aware that a man's age in years is less reliable than his ability to fulfill an active role — to live until he dies.

Thus, the significance of President Eisenhower's 66th birthday lies not in the onest of his 67th year but in the breadth and depth of his continued desire for living. The manner in which he has plunged into his second presidential campaign attests to the fact that his approach to life's challenges is more vibrant than that of most people at 36 or 46.

Throughout this life, the President has shied from the narcosis of relaxing for the sake of relaxing. His moments of rest and recreation have rather been periods of "rearming" to attack new and more difficult battles than those he had won before.

It is frequently heard that Ike would have been wiser to have chosen the peace and quiet of his Gettysburg home over the rigors of a second term; that after so long a life of outstanding service he deserves the leisurely life of a gentleman farmer.

What purveyors of this view overlook is that Dwight Eisenhower is not the sort of man who has "declining" years. Retirement for him would be more punishment than reward.

At 66, he is no less at the prime of his capacity for zestful living than he was 20 or 30 years ago.

Happy Birthday, Mr. President.

Dry Run

When Sen. Francis P. Case of S. Dakota alleged last Feb. 3 that questionable lobbying had been done on the Harris-Fulbright bill to exempt natural gas producers from federal price controls, the fat was in the fire.

The bill, already approved in principle by the House, was passed, only to draw President Eisenhower's veto. The veto did not reflect any opposition to the bill, which the president said was sound, but to the lobbying in its behalf.

It was inevitable that the Senate would have an investigation. It also was inevitable, as skeptics declared at the time, that the investigation would be a dry run.

This has been confirmed by Sen. McLellan of Arkansas, chairman of the special committee set up to do the investigating. He says it has been impossible to get evidence. Only 42 of 96 senators replied to a questionnaire about lobbying.

Why were they reluctant?

Simply because every proposed law brings out lobbying, pro and con. Lobbying in itself is not bad, being no more than the right of petition. It is only bad when it is "improper," and no one knows better than a member of Congress the impossibility of drawing a line of distinction between "proper" and "improper."

Occasionally, the fat will be cast in the fire, as it was in the case of the Harris-Fulbright bill. But Congress does not consider an occasional mishap to be a reason for putting out the fire, any more than it considered Sen. Case's outburst last February to be a reason for defeating a good bill.

Christmas shopping days soon will be here and it'll be okay for Dad to come home with a load.

Religion At Work

By EUGENE CARR

The young sailor sat clutching a large white envelope as we taxied toward the runway for a take-off. His eyes followed the row of tiny windows that focused, one by one, on the waving crowd at the terminal gates. Finally, the giant plane swung around into position and the terminal disappeared from view. The sailor settled back in his seat and stared straight ahead.

His name was Jim. The large white envelope said so. It was from the U.S. Navy — official business. Jim had his travel orders.

Jim had been home on leave. He had finished his training in the hospital corps and was headed for a navy base in a foreign land. He had enjoyed being home, but he was anxious to get to his new assignment and the new work ahead. He hoped they would put him in the "labs" this time.

The hospital corps hadn't been his first choice of duty but they had told him men were needed badly in the service hospitals, so he'd put it down as one of his choices. Now he was glad, because he had decided he wanted to be a doctor. He would finish college and go on to medical school when he got out of the navy.

Jim had been a pretty fair baseball pitcher in high school. In fact, he had played with a major league farm team one season until he had hurt his pitching arm. Then he had joined the navy and saved his money so he could get married. Mrs. Jim was his high school sweetheart, the only girl he ever had.

She was working in a florist shop. She liked that type of work. As soon as Jim was settled at his new base, she would join him. Together, they would work and save until they could go back to school. Yes, she would be going to college, too so she could teach while he was in medical school.

Jim did not seem to think the program he and his young wife had laid out for themselves would be either long or difficult. It would be interesting and exciting, he said. There is nothing like doing something to help people and that's what a doctor does, he said.

Jim is 22. He has three more years in the navy, two more years in college, then medical school and an internship. He will be 32 or 34 years old when he starts his practice.

"That's alright," Jim said. "Look what I'll have when I get through, and I'll be able to practice for 40 years!"

The world is full of young men like Jim and young wives like Mrs. Jim. They won't all reach their goals, but they are planning and working to tie their lives to a useful purpose and that is better than not planning and working and having no purpose at all.

So They Say

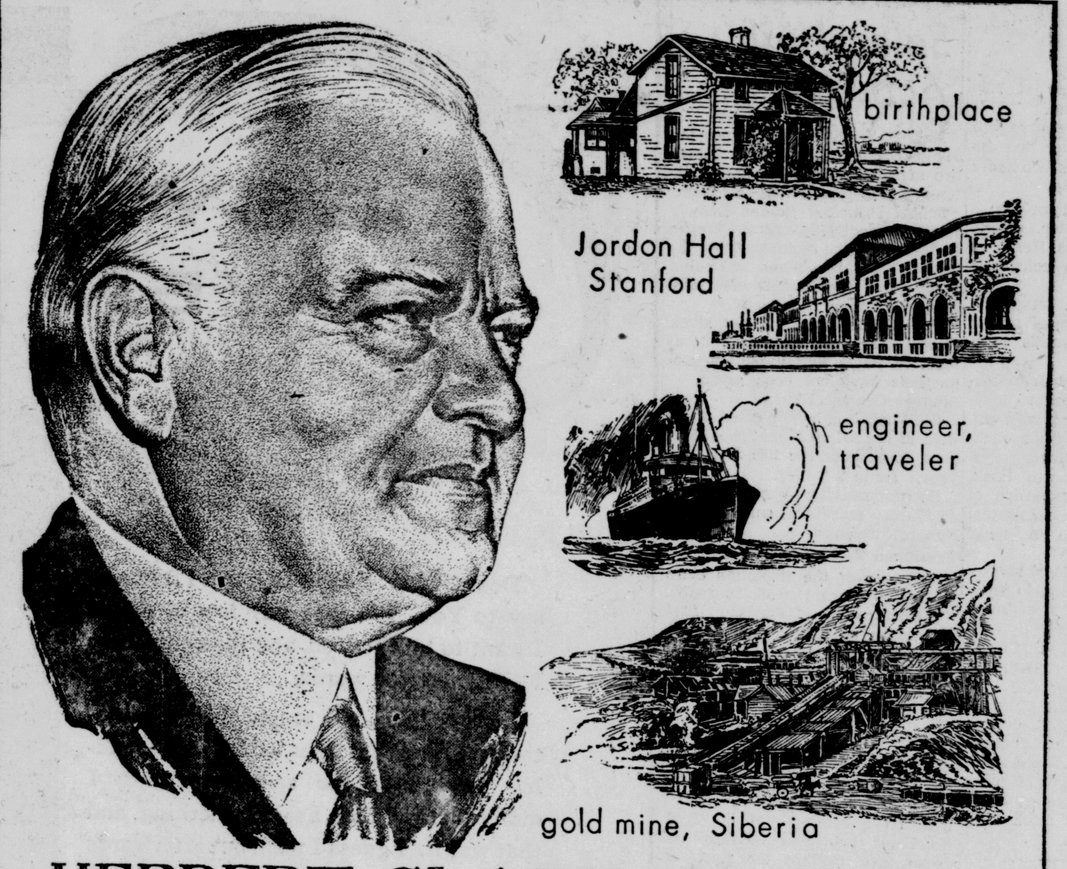

The free world looks to the United States for leadership in standing firm against the Communist push. We must not now betray that leadership by loose talk of soon ending the draft. —President Eisenhower.

Remorse will never leave him. Further, he (S-Sgt. Matthew McKeon) is the father now of three children. He may be expected to appreciate the feelings of those whose sons were lost that fateful night. —Navy Secretary Charles Thomas permits McKeon of "death march" fame to stay in the Marine Corps.

OUR PRESIDENTS

by Patrick and Vinmont

HERBERT CLARK HOOVER

Son of a Quaker blacksmith, born August 10, 1874, West Branch, Iowa. Orphaned at 10, he lived on farms with relatives in Iowa and Oregon. Ambitious to be an engineer, he attended Pacific Academy and worked his way through Stanford University, graduating in 1895. His first job was shoveling ore at $2.50 a day. Before he was 40, he had engineered all over the world and was known as an expert technician and executive.

Adding no more to his personal fortune, he was engaged without salary for eight years from 1914 to provision populations and to handle difficult, critical negotiations with foreign countries and relief organizations. He became famous. Appointed Secretary of Commerce, 1921, he made that office a major agency in stabilizing economic life, and was chosen Republican candidate for President in 1928.

Inaugurated thirty-first President of the United States March 4, 1929, he was immediately confronted with world-wide economic collapse started by the huge losses of World War I. He closed the door to immigration and promoted numerous panic and emergency relief measures. He proposed the moratorium which probably saved Europe from complete disaster, and pushed through Congress a reconstruction program of public works and federal loans. He made radio broadcasts and a nation-wide tour to explain that his legislation was promoting recovery. But popular discontent caused by the severe "depression" defeated him for re-election. He returned to his home on the Stanford campus, near Palo Alto, California, where he had founded the Hoover Library on the causes of war. Since then, however, he has been active on governmental and industrial committees. His judgment is highly respected. Acknowledged as an authority on problems of poverty, education, science and industry, he has received countless awards and honorary degrees, and been honored by many societies and countries.

A serious man of tireless energy, he is shy and reserved in public but in reality is a distinctly human individual. He enjoys fishing and reading.

Reds Want Bomb Ban

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Communists Pleased At Stevenson's Proposals

WASHINGTON — The Communists have achieved one of the most important of their propaganda victories in the "cold war". They can gloat over the fact that proposals for a prohibition of superbomb tests now are being debated in the presidential campaign in the United States and are attracting worldwide attention. For years—in fact, ever since the Russians tested their first A-bomb in 1949—an insidious campaign, mostly through "left-wing" circles, has been carried on in the forums of world opinion in an attempt to bring about and ending of the tests.

Lawrence

The Daily Worker — the Communist organ in New York — and other Communist party newspapers abroad have for several years harped on the issue of A-bomb tests. Now that Adlai Stevenson has given prominence in his own speeches to the idea of banning H-bomb tests, the Communist press is playing up everything said on the subject and commending the Democratic presidential nominee for the position he is taking.

What is back of this steady effort of the Moscow regime to focus attention on H-bomb tests? What is behind the constant emphasis on the supposed willingness of the Soviets to keep any agreement banning the use of superbombs?

THE ANSWER LIES in the field of military strategy. When the United States dropped the atom bomb on Japan, Soviet Russia did not have the weapon. For a long time thereafter, the American and British position was that possession of this bomb served as a deterrent in preventing Communist armies from overrunning Europe.

When the Communists themselves announced in 1949 that they had "an atomic weapon," they knew they couldn't manufacture them in the quantity or variety that the United States could. Military strategists of the Moscow regime knew also that if they could prevent further development in America, through tests this would afford the Soviet Union a big advantage in the next war.

The Stevenson idea of a one-sided ban on superbomb tests is not altogether new. Inside the Atomic Energy Commission during the Truman administration, there was a hesitancy to develop the H-bomb. The lag of nearly three years was costly to America.

The argument was supposedly based on the moral side. Some of the scientists indirectly connected with Communist causes were lined up against further work on the H-bomb. Hence, America from 1946 to early 1950 virtually put a self-imposed ban on developing or testing H-bombs while Russia went ahead with the development of bombs of all kinds and was thereby able to adopt a belligerent attitude in the "cold war" and even to instigate Red Chinese aggression in Korea.

IT WAS SUGGESTED in April of this year in a public speech by Adlai Stevenson that America should halt the testing on her own and wait and see what Russia did. The argument he made was that the United States could later "reconsider" and resume the testing if Russia made any more tests.

President Eisenhower has answered this by revealing that it takes months of preparation for the tests and valuable time would be lost if America refrained, then waited to see what Russia would do.

Apologists for Adlai Stevenson's position are saying that the United States could go right on with her preparations anyway and then, if Russia didn't keep her word, the tests could be resumed and no time would be lost.

This is tantamount to suggesting that the United States would agree to stop the tests and would actually break faith by preparing for the tests anyhow.

As a matter of fact, such preparations would be useless without constant tests of some kind. Scientists cannot work in the dark in preparing for ests they don't know they will be permitted to make.

Another fallacy exists among defeatists who want to place American security in jeopardy by putting trust in Russian talk about banning tests.

It has, for example, been said by Mr. Stevenson and others that if Soviet Russia broke faith and did do some testing, this would be promptly detected.

But the truth is, tests can be concealed. Some able scientists say this can be readily accomplished and that the U.S. government knows it can be done.

WHAT THE WHOLE thing amounts to is this: Soviet Russia wants superbombs banned. When that happens, the big land armies of the Communists will dominate Europe. It's a strategic move.

If an easily deluded man is ever elected to be president of the United States and falls for these proposals, disaster for the American people can result.

Tests are necessary in order to determine not merely how to drop bombs in a war against an aggressor but how to intercept bombing planes that carry them before those planes get across the ocean.

The tests have a defensive as well as an offensive purpose. To ban them is to jeopardize America's safety.

If any one thing will alienate votes for Mr. Stevenson, it is his naive attitude toward proposals to ban tests of superbombs.

SIDE GLANCES By Galbraith

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

In politics, as in everything else, timing is of the essence. Does anyone else have the impression Adlai Stevenson started to slide into second base too soon and may run out of momentum before the end of October?

For sheer beauty, nothing can beat a frost-encrusted landscape in the country, although I cannot enjoy the sight because it always strikes me as terrifying.

If you get curious about what you do with your time, a few days with a notebook and a pencil will reveal the ghastly truth—that you spend most of it doing hings you were not aware of, but which all consumed time.

Do not get talked into a bet that "transpire" and "perspire" mean different things. Both mean to give off liquid through the skin.

One of a thousand things I'd like to do and never will get around to doing is to spend October in northern Canada.

This tidbit of information proves useful in shutting the mouths of people who try to make generalizations about the relative intelligence of Negroes and whites—that in both World Wars the rejection rate of military registrants for failure to meet minimum intelligence standards was higher for deep southern whites than for Negroes, in states with desegregated education.

At this stage in a political campaign, I feel sorry for the candidates. No one feels like being friendly all the time, and anyone who pretends to be friendlier than he feels hates himself.

No matter how hard I try, the idea of Columbus Day eludes me. Personally, I am for Amerigo Vespucci, because Amerigo got here first and we named the continent after him, didn't we?

If you hang around long enough, someone will steal your ideas and get credit for being a genius. that windups used by pitchers Although having no ball-playing ability, I always have insisted were showboating at best and detrimental to control a worst. Larsen and Turley of the Yankees have proved tht point and will start a revolution in pitching style.

Pick out six political races whose contenders' names are household words in your opinion, then ask the next six people you meet who is running in the races. It takes all kinds of households to make a world.

Something over which I have no control make me want to step on all too - tiny dogs. Nothing against the little beasts, to speak of—just an impulse to step on them, like bugs.

At first I thought it was a typgraphical error when Margaret Sullavan's age in a recent TV fiasco story was given as 45. That is one of the things which throw you off balance. The world keeps getting fuller of people who keep getting older.

I think all food will be prepared in advance some day, just as much of it already is, and am encouraging the culinary division of my household to keep pace with the times by experimenting with all new offerings.

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Durante With Pipe and Slippers

Jimmy Durante, perhaps America's most beloved clown, is to be married. He has decided to stop yelling "It's mutiny" at Cupid.

Margie Little is to be the Schnozzola's bride. The date has not been set. Maybe Jimmy is waiting for a spot where the bow and arrow routine will fit into the script.

Millions will wish the country's most popular song and dance man and his bride the fullest happiness, but we never cease to wonder at the problems ahead. How can a fellow as busy in all phases of show business as Durante ever find time for the pipe and slippers routine?

What will be his reactions when the wife says, "I don't care what your plans are for tonight; let's stay home and see if we can get a TV show. There may be something good on."

It is hard to picture Jimmy as an ideal home man, in view of the fact he lives and breathes show business, and never more so than for the past 20 years. Laughter and applause are second nature to him.

Every married man knows that while he can get laughter he can't depend on much applause around the house. The laughter will be in the wrong spots.

There are disputes in everybody's domestic life and it is impossible to get out of an argument by going into a dance routine. Not even a half dozen script writers can be of any help to Jimmy in a situation where he has his mind made up on some matter and the wife has entirely different views.

A COMEDIAN like Jimmy has become accustomed to deafening applause, even when the material is not the best. There are long hours in married life when, even with love pretty dominant, no loud cheers or hand-clapping can be expected.

Durante demands an "entrance," the center of the stage, the dance mood and the surefire exit. When things are not going so good he can always smash up a piano, dissemble the orchestra and go into "Dija ever have a feelin' ya wanted to go and still have a feelin' ya wanted to stay?" But this will be strictly no dice around the house. We doubt if even crumpled hats will help.

On TV, Jimmy finds a wonderful finale when he exits in a series of spotlight encirclements, but this can never happen at home. When a married man says, "I'm going out," all the spotlights in the world can't guarantee the wife's reactions will be warm.

Durante is a slave to show business in all phases and is in rehearsals, huddles, etc., much of the time. "I was detained at the office" isn't much of an excuse for the ordinary married man. A wife is no less skeptical when he says, "We had to whip the show together at the last minute. Everything went wrong."

JOE E. LEWIS to an audience a little slow on the laughs: "I've got a very funny story I could tell but I don't want to destroy your mood."

Joe is close to being the funniest of all monologists and is a top ah-libber . . . Annoyed by a fly which kept lighting on his sleeve on the Sullivan TV show he quipped, "This must have come from the Steve Allen program."

When Ima Dodo wanted to listen to Premier Nasser of Egypt on the Ed Murrow interview she asked, "Is he on Canal 2 or Canal 4?" . . . Our set went bad during the Nasser-interview and we feared for a minute that he had nationalized it.

We hear Gypsy Rose Lee is working on a musical to be known as "My Bare Lady."

State Promises Aid In Raising Leetonia Spans

$200,000 Project Will Solve Costly Flood Problems

State Highway Department assurance this week of financial aid in raising three bridges in Leetonia points the way to a solution of the flood problem which has plagued the village for a number of years, entailing damages estimated at thousands of dollars.

Leetonia Mayor Paul Sevenich reported today he had been notified that the highway department will share on a 50-50 basis with the county the cost of a project to elevate the three bridges on Rt. 344 about two feet.

Estimated total cost of the project is between $150,000 and $200,000.

The bridges are on Columbia, Hazel and State Sts.

Arrangements remain to be completed concerning two other bridges in the village which are not on a state highway. The latter spans, on Madison and Washington St's. probably will be raised at village expense, the mayor said.

Mayor Sevenich said he was informed of the Highway departments action by Levi (Jack) Kimble, Division 11 State High Department engineer at New Philadelphia.

Kimble told Sevenich that the highway department would send the mayor and the Columbiana County commissioners letters confirming the state's action.

Army Engineers to Assist

Sevenich said he would mail copies of the letters to Col. H. E. Sprague, district engineers, U. S. Corps of Engineers, at Pittsburgh.

According to decisions reached at previous meetings, the Army engineers will dredge the Cherry Valley Fork of Beaver Creek after receiving official pledges that the state, county and village will cooperate financially in raising the five bridges in the village.

The flood conditions, which became acute in 1953, are caused by vegetable growth and other obstructions in the creek, plus the bridges themselves which, because of their low understructures, serve as dams whenever heavy rains raise the water level.

Dredging the creek would not greatly alleviate tthe flood conditions unless the bridges were raised, Army engineers have maintained.

Mayor Sevenich says the village apparently will have to assume the full financial burden of raising the bridges on Madison and Washington Sts., although village officials feel the county should share the cost.

Besides the expenses involved in raising the two bridges, the village also must pay for moving utility lines along the creek. The mayor said village officials hope to meet the cost with proceeds from the one and one-half mill levy

Other Courthouse Offices To Be Filled Nov. 6

County Voters Focus Eyes On 4 Contests

With the public's interest starting to quicken, state, district and county candidates are ready to head into their home stretch campaigns in the 23 days remaining before the Nov. 6 general election.

Columbiana County will fill virtually every Courthouse office and have a voice in naming the men who will represent it in Congress and the State Legislature.

Four races will hold the limelight on the county end of the ticket, naming a man to fill a newly - created second Common Pleas Court judgeship; picking a new sheriff and prosecuting attorney and choosing between two Republican incumbents and two Democratic contenders for two county commissioner's posts.

Two Aspire To Judgeship

Republican nominee for the new court post is Atty. Raymond S. Buzzard of East Liverpool, veteran lawyer, president of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce and a former member of the Board of Education in that city. Democrats nominated Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem, a 44-year-Army veteran and former assistant prosecuting attorney. Their names will appear on the non-partisan judicial ballot, devoid of party affiliation.

The winner will take the $13,035 post Jan. 1, becoming the county's second Common Pleas judge.

The race for the sheriff's job will be decided between Albert E. Kittridge of East Liverpool, a former city patrolman who won the Democratic nomination in the five-way race in May, and Chief Deputy Russell J. VanFossan of East Palestine, who spearheaded a burglary investigation of the East Liverpool police department in March and April.

Sheriff Howard J. Clark, a Republican, did not seek a new term.

Also high in interest will be the race for prosecutor between Atty G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool, now assistant to Prosecuting Atty. James L. MacDonald, and Atty. Robert S. Hartfor of East Palestine. Brokaw is the GOP nominee and Hartford is the Democratic candidate. He is a former East Palestine city solicitor.

The prosecutor's post opened up when the incumbent, MacDonald, ran unsuccessfully for the GOP nomination for the second common pleas judgeship, rather than seeking a new term.

Commissioner Candidates

The two incumbent Republican commissioners both are seeking second terms. They are W. A. Southan, former president of East Liverpool City Council, and Walter A. Hunston, former mayor of East Palestine. Their Democratic opponents are C. C. Leatherberry, former Wellsville mayor, and Robert Barnett of RD 1, Beloit, a turkey and dairy farmer.

The holdover commissioner is Galen Greenisen of Salem, also a Republican.

Races in the 18th Congressional District and 20th-22nd State Senatorial District will share the spotlight with the county end of the ballot.

Paul V. Baxter, operator of a sign business and a former East Liverpool city councilman, is the Republican candidate for the district seat in the state senate. He is running against the veteran Democratic incumbent, Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry, who is seeking a fourth term.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, Democrat, is bidding for a new term in congress, opposed by Joseph Miller of Steubenville, a high school teacher and the Republican nominee.

Gaughn Opposes Wetzel

State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, Republican, is bidding for a new term in the legislature in a race wholly within the boundaries of Columbiana County. His opponent is D. James Gaughn of Columbiana, Democrat, operator of a service station and restaurant.

Here's the way the balance of the county ticket lines up:

Clerk of Courts: John W. Coleman of East Liverpool, veteran Republican incumbent, opposed by Edward L. Nelson of East Liverpool, Democratic nominee. Nelson is a church custodian and a former bus driver.

Recorder: Mrs. Frances W. Mor-

2 Life Rafts Seen Off Spain; Both Reported Empty

5 Ships Approach Scene As Hunt For 59 Men Continues

LONDON (AP)—Search planes today spotted two life rafts off Spain where a giant American military airliner is believed to have crashed three days ago — but radioed they saw no sign of life on either raft.

An earlier report said there appeared to be one man on one of the rafts capable of holding 20 men.

U. S. Air Force headquarters at Ruislip announced:

"No sign of life has been observed on either of two life rafts observed from the air."

An Air Force announcement said five ships were approaching the scene and were expected to arrive this afternoon.

The first raft sighted from the air appeared partly inflated, a spokesman said, but the second raft "appeared to be deflated, with no one apparently aboard."

Spotted Off Spain

The rubber life rafts were spotted off the northwest tip of Spain, roughly 800 miles from Lakenheath, England, where the missing U.S. C118 Liftmaster took off Wednesday en route to the United States.

The two rafts were some 20 miles apart.

"We still cannot say definitely whether there are any survivors on the second raft sighted," a U.S. Air Force spokesman said.

One hundred airplanes from three continents scoured the North Atlantic in one of the greatest searches in aviation history. The rafts were found after the planes were ordered to the area off Spain to investigate weak SOS signals heard this morning.

One of the search planes radioed:

"Sighted 20-man raft partly inflated and what appears to be one man aboard."

The SOS signals were similar to those that would have been sounded by a hand-cranked radio in a rubber life raft.

Plane Vanished Wednesday

The transport, a military version of the four-engine DC6 civilian airliner, vanished late Wednesday after sending out a routine radio message giving its position on a flight to the United States via the Azores Islands.

Aboard were nine U. S. Navy crewmen and 50 Air Force men from the air force base at Lincoln, Neb., who had been on duty in Britain.

The C118 Liftmaster carried four packaged rubber rafts, which

3 Nations Approve Basis For Suez Pact

Salt, But Not For Table Use

A harbinger of winter, this mountain of salt has arrived at the state highway department's Columbiana county maintenance garage at Leetonia, ready to be used when roads become icy from the season's first freeze.

You're looking at 200 tons of salt and there's more inside the garage. In all, a total of 1,400 tons of salt will be stored this season. About 6,000 tons of ashes for use on the highways also will be kept ready for quick use.

In the picture above Ray R. Garwood, a mechanic at the state highway garage, digs a shovel into the huge pile of salt. Cinders and ashes are in the second pile in back.

U.N. Approval Sought Today On 6 Principles

Britain, France, Egypt Agree; Ike Hails Step As Gratifying

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council was called on today to approve six principles on which Britain, France and Egypt have agreed to base settlement of their Suez Canal dispute.

The council was expected to give unanimous endorsement to a resolution being drafted by Britain and France, but there were signs a long debate might precede the vote.

Agreement on the six principles was reported to the council in a two-hour secret session Friday night.

The principles called for freedom of navigation, respect for Egyptian sovereignty, insulation of the canal from national politics, fixing of tolls by agreement between Egypt and the users, use of a fair part of the dues for canal improvement and arbitration of any disputes between Egypt and the expropriated Suez Canal Co.

President Eisenhower on a television interview in Washington hailed the development as "most gratifying." He declared it looked as though "a very great crisis is behind us."

Secretary of State Dulles was reported highly pleased over the latest step and said there seemed to be solid ground for a favorable outcome.

The agreement resulted from six private huddles among British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi and U.N. secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

The talks started at Hammarskjold's invitation Tuesday night while the council was deadlocked over a British-French resolution declaring that Egypt's July 26 nationalization of the 103-mile canal endangered freedom of passage.

The agreement was concluded in the Secretary General's office only a few hours before the council met Friday.

Adlai 'Pleased' At Prospects

Scientist Opposes Nuclear Tests

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson came home today from an intensive Far West campaign feeling "very pleased" over his prospects for carrying the five states he visited.

Stevenson pinned high hopes for a Democratic victory Nov. 6 on making his proposal to ban H-bomb tests stick as a major issue.

At Chicago's Midway Airport on his arrival at 7:17 a.m. (CST) Stevenson told newsmen he will devote a nationwide television talk to his differences with President Eisenhower over H-bomb tests. The program will be carried from Chicago at 9:30 p.m. (EST) Monday over ABC.

Stevenson was asked for comment on a speech at Washington last night by Dr. Laurence H. Snyder, dean of Oklahoma University's graduate school and president-elect of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, told an atomic radiation meeting nuclear tests may lead to atomic war and "universal death."

Speech "Complete Surprise"

Stevenson said the speech came as "complete surprise". He added:

"It is consistent with the information I have had for many, many months and seems to confirm what I have said about the hazards of continuing these tests."

Stevenson was asked about the progress he was making in the five states he visisted this week—California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

"I feel very pleased," he said. "But, of course, this is no occasion for over-optimism."

Stevenson also was asked about his statement at San Diego Friday night that Eisenhower is "an aging President" and the future belong not to him but to "his young, anointed and ambitious vice president—Mr. Nixon."

Stevenson said he could not elaborate except to note that Eisenhower celebrates his 66th birthday next week. A reporter wanted to know if Stevenson thought 66 too old to run for President. He replied: "No, I didn't say that."

As to what he meant by Nixon being "anointed," Stevenson said "hand-picked might be another

Says Union Man As Important As Any Millionaire

Ike Defends Use of Businessmen To Handle Huge U.S. Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower warmly defended Friday night his use of men from "big business" in key administration jobs. But he also told a member of a garment workers union "you are just as important to me as any millionaire that ever walked the earth."

In an unprecedented nationwide radio-TV question and answer session, Eisenhower also said key nations involved in the Suez Canal crisis had at long last "agreed on a set of principles on which to negotiate." and he added, to applause from his audience in the room:

Both during and after the broadcast, Eisenhower replied to questions from what the White House called "a cross section of Americans" invited to Washington from all sections of the country by the National Citizens for Eisenhower Committee. He met with them in a Washington hotel.

Asked About Businessmen

The broadcast portion had ended when he got an inquiry dealing with the men from "big business" to whom he has given top government jobs.

Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, has been accusing Eisenhower of turning over his administration to big business and forgetting about "the little fellow."

Against that background, Isadore Siegal of New York identified himself as a member of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union for 25 years and "an independent voter." Then he told Eisenhower:

"You have a lot of people that are big shots in the cabinet. I want to ask you, Mr. President, do you think of all the working people alike—like in the big business?"

Sitting in the room with Eisenhower, you could see his jaw set, his face flush just a bit. Then he noted that he had remarked earlier that he grew up in a family that had to struggle to make ends meet. And he went on to tell Siegal:

"You or anybody else is just as important to me as any millionaire that ever walked the earth.

"Now I have three or four very successful businessmen in my cabinet. My friend, the Defense Department is spending something like 40 billion dollars a year of our money.

"Who would you rather have in charge of that—some failure who never did anything, or a successful businessman?"

Referring then to Secretary of Defense Wilson, former president of General Motors Corp., Eisnhower went on in crackling tones:

Legal Opinion Awaited In Township Case

Unanswered "$64 questions" are holding up the appointment of a trustee to fill a vacancy on the Perry Township trustees' board.

Five have applied for the job.

Since Mr. Fernengel died the present trustees, Joseph G. Reese and Dale Paxson, have carried on. Legally this is alright but there has been some public expression over the delay in appointing a third trustee.

The power of appointment rests with Wade Loop, who is justice of the peace in Perry township. Loop has delayed in making the appointment because he wants the job but can not appoint himself.

He could resign as "JP" and be appointed trustee by the other township justice of the peace, William Rich, Jr., if the latter would agree, but just who would have the power of authority to name a new "JP" is not quite clear.

A Columbiana County "JP" commission was formed during the past year to appoint justices of the peace.

That commission is composed of Judge Joel H. Sharp and Louis Tobin and Galen Greenisen, president of the county commissioners.

John Taylor Offers Lollipops To Opponent

At the Ohio Democratic farm rally at Ohio State Fairgrounds, Taylor held his transparent bag of lollipops aloft and asked if newsmen would distribute its contents "to politicians who are acting like tired, screaming children after a long day at the fair."

"I would like to be sure," Taylor added, "that three or four get to my opponent. Lollipops are the best things to stop a cry baby."

His Republican opponent is former Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert who has been engaged recently in a verbal feud with Ohio Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy over operations of the commission.

Bible Words for Today

I CORINTHIANS 14:12—"Since you are eager for the manifestations of the Spirit, strive to excel in the building up of the church." (RSV)

* * *

Today when the church is being challenged by forces of darkness there is great need for "oneness of spirit." I Corinthians was written to a divided church; divided because of the non-essentials as evidenced by the question of tongues and other spiritual gifts.

The different approaches made by religious groups do not necessarily mean there is division. However, when any group stresses its pet creedal position at the expense of the essentials, division is the result. One test of the value of any belief held by a branch of the church is the contribution it makes to the building up of the whole church.

Christianity can be made stronger by its various emphases, for these give a greater opportunity for reaching all the people. We can maintain our identity as denominations and at the same time present a united front against the forces of evil. Whatever spiritual light has come to any should be shared with all. It is a gift of God and we should "strive to excel in the building up of the Church." This is an obligation laid upon all of us.

The Rev. Norman U. Boone
First Methodist Church
Columbia, Miss.

State Promises Aid In Raising Leetonia Spans

$200,000 Project Will Solve Costly Flood Problems

State Highway Department assurance this week of financial aid in raising three bridges in Leetonia points the way to a solution of the flood problem which has plagued the village for a number of years, entailing damages estimated at thousands of dollars.

Leetonia Mayor Paul Sevenich reported today he had been notified that the highway department will share on a 50-50 basis with the county the cost of a project to elevate the three bridges on Rt. 344 about two feet.

Estimated total cost of the project is between $150,000 and $200,000.

The bridges are on Columbia, Hazel and State Sts.

Arrangements remain to be completed concerning two other bridges in the village which are not on a state highway. The latter spans, on Madison and Washington St's. probably will be raised at village expense, the mayor said.

Mayor Sevenich said he was informed of the Highway departments action by Levi (Jack) Kimble, Division 11 State High Department engineer at New Philadelphia.

Kimble told Sevenich that the highway department would send the mayor and the Columbiana County commissioners letters confirming the state's action.

Army Engineers to Assist

Sevenich said he would mail copies of the letters to Col. H. E. Sprague, district engineers, U. S. Corps of Engineers, at Pittsburgh.

According to decisions reached at previous meetings, the Army engineers will dredge the Cherry Valley Fork of Beaver Creek after receiving official pledges that the state, county and village will cooperate financially in raising the five bridges in the village.

The flood conditions, which became acute in 1953, are caused by vegetable growth and other obstructions in the creek, plus the bridges themselves which, because of their low understructures, serve as dams whenever heavy rains raise the water level.

Dredging the creek would not greatly alleviate tthe flood conditions unless the bridges were raised, Army engineers have maintained.

Mayor Sevenich says the village apparently will have to assume the full financial burden of raising the bridges on Madison and Washington Sts., although village officials feel the county should share the cost.

Besides the expenses involved in raising the two bridges, the village also must pay for moving utility lines along the creek. The mayor said village officials hope to meet the cost with proceeds from the one and one-half mill levy

Other Courthouse Offices To Be Filled Nov. 6

County Voters Focus Eyes On 4 Contests

With the public's interest starting to quicken, state, district and county candidates are ready to head into their home stretch campaigns in the 23 days remaining before the Nov. 6 general election.

Columbiana County will fill virtually every Courthouse office and have a voice in naming the men who will represent it in Congress and the State Legislature.

Four races will hold the limelight on the county end of the ticket, naming a man to fill a newly - created second Common Pleas Court judgeship; picking a new sheriff and prosecuting attorney and choosing between two Republican incumbents and two Democratic contenders for two county commissioner's posts.

Two Aspire To Judgeship

Republican nominee for the new court post is Atty. Raymond S. Buzzard of East Liverpool, veteran lawyer, president of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce and a former member of the Board of Education in that city. Democrats nominated Atty. Guy Mauro of Salem, a 44-year-Army veteran and former assistant prosecuting attorney. Their names will appear on the non-partisan judicial ballot, devoid of party affiliation.

The winner will take the $13,035 post Jan. 1, becoming the county's second Common Pleas judge.

The race for the sheriff's job will be decided between Albert E. Kittridge of East Liverpool, a former city patrolman who won the Democratic nomination in the five-way race in May, and Chief Deputy Russell J. VanFossan of East Palestine, who spearheaded a burglary investigation of the East Liverpool police department in March and April.

Sheriff Howard J. Clark, a Republican, did not seek a new term.

Also high in interest will be the race for prosecutor between Atty G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool, now assistant to Prosecuting Atty. James L. MacDonald, and Atty. Robert S. Hartfor of East Palestine. Brokaw is the GOP nominee and Hartford is the Democratic candidate. He is a former East Palestine city solicitor.

The prosecutor's post opened up when the incumbent, MacDonald, ran unsuccessfully for the GOP nomination for the second common pleas judgeship, rather than seeking a new term.

Commissioner Candidates

The two incumbent Republican commissioners both are seeking second terms. They are W. A. Southan, former president of East Liverpool City Council, and Walter A. Hunston, former mayor of East Palestine. Their Democratic opponents are C. C. Leatherberry, former Wellsville mayor, and Robert Barnett of RD 1, Beloit, a turkey and dairy farmer.

The holdover commissioner is Galen Greenisen of Salem, also a Republican.

Races in the 18th Congressional District and 20th-22nd State Senatorial District will share the spotlight with the county end of the ballot.

Paul V. Baxter, operator of a sign business and a former East Liverpool city councilman, is the Republican candidate for the district seat in the state senate. He is running against the veteran Democratic incumbent, Arthur Blake of Martins Ferry, who is seeking a fourth term.

Rep. Wayne L. Hays of Flushing, Democrat, is bidding for a new term in congress, opposed by Joseph Miller of Steubenville, a high school teacher and the Republican nominee.

Gaughn Opposes Wetzel

State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, Republican, is bidding for a new term in the legislature in a race wholly within the boundaries of Columbiana County. His opponent is D. James Gaughn of Columbiana, Democrat, operator of a service station and restaurant.

Here's the way the balance of the county ticket lines up:

Clerk of Courts: John W. Coleman of East Liverpool, veteran Republican incumbent, opposed by Edward L. Nelson of East Liverpool, Democratic nominee. Nelson is a church custodian and a former bus driver.

Recorder: Mrs. Frances W. Mor-

2 Life Rafts Seen Off Spain; Both Reported Empty

5 Ships Approach Scene As Hunt For 59 Men Continues

LONDON (AP)—Search planes today spotted two life rafts off Spain where a giant American military airliner is believed to have crashed three days ago — but radioed they saw no sign of life on either raft.

An earlier report said there appeared to be one man on one of the rafts capable of holding 20 men.

U. S. Air Force headquarters at Ruislip announced:

"No sign of life has been observed on either of two life rafts observed from the air."

An Air Force announcement said five ships were approaching the scene and were expected to arrive this afternoon.

The first raft sighted from the air appeared partly inflated, a spokesman said, but the second raft "appeared to be deflated, with no one apparently aboard."

Spotted Off Spain

The rubber life rafts were spotted off the northwest tip of Spain, roughly 800 miles from Lakenheath, England, where the missing U.S. C118 Liftmaster took off Wednesday en route to the United States.

The two rafts were some 20 miles apart.

"We still cannot say definitely whether there are any survivors on the second raft sighted," a U.S. Air Force spokesman said.

One hundred airplanes from three continents scoured the North Atlantic in one of the greatest searches in aviation history. The rafts were found after the planes were ordered to the area off Spain to investigate weak SOS signals heard this morning.

One of the search planes radioed:

"Sighted 20-man raft partly inflated and what appears to be one man aboard."

The SOS signals were similar to those that would have been sounded by a hand-cranked radio in a rubber life raft.

Plane Vanished Wednesday

The transport, a military version of the four-engine DC6 civilian airliner, vanished late Wednesday after sending out a routine radio message giving its position on a flight to the United States via the Azores Islands.

Aboard were nine U. S. Navy crewmen and 50 Air Force men from the air force base at Lincoln, Neb., who had been on duty in Britain.

Salt, But Not For Table Use

A harbinger of winter, this mountain of salt has arrived at the state highway department's Columbiana county maintenance garage at Leetonia, ready to be used when roads become icy from the season's first freeze.

You're looking at 200 tons of salt and there's more inside the garage. In all, a total of 1,400 tons of salt will be stored this season. About 6,000 tons of ashes for use on the highways also will be kept ready for quick use.

In the picture above Ray R. Garwood, a mechanic at the state highway garage, digs a shovel into the huge pile of salt. Cinders and ashes are in the second pile in back.

U.N. Approval Sought Today On 6 Principles

Britain, France, Egypt Agree; Ike Hails Step As Gratifying

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council was called on today to approve six principles on which Britain, France and Egypt have agreed to base settlement of their Suez Canal dispute.

The council was expected to give unanimous endorsement to a resolution being drafted by Britain and France, but there were signs a long debate might precede the vote.

Agreement on the six principles was reported to the council in a two-hour secret session Friday night.

The principles called for freedom of navigation, respect for Egyptian sovereignty, insulation of the canal from national politics, fixing of tolls by agreement between Egypt and the users, use of a fair part of the dues for canal improvement and arbitration of any disputes between Egypt and the expropriated Suez Canal Co.

President Eisenhower on a television interview in Washington hailed the development as "most gratifying." He declared it looked as though "a very great crisis is behind us."

Secretary of State Dulles was reported highly pleased over the latest step and said there seemed to be solid ground for a favorable outcome.

The agreement resulted from six private huddles among British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd, French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi and U.N. secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

The talks started at Hammarskjold's invitation Tuesday night while the council was deadlocked over a British-French resolution declaring that Egypt's July 26 nationalization of the 103-mile canal endangered freedom of passage.

The agreement was concluded in the Secretary General's office only a few hours before the council met Friday.

Adlai 'Pleased' At Prospects

Scientist Opposes Nuclear Tests

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson came home today from an intensive Far West campaign feeling "very pleased" over his prospects for carrying the five states he visited.

Stevenson pinned high hopes for a Democratic victory Nov. 6 on making his proposal to ban H-bomb tests stick as a major issue.

At Chicago's Midway Airport on his arrival at 7:17 a.m. (CST) Stevenson told newsmen he will devote a nationwide television talk to his differences with President Eisenhower over H-bomb tests. The program will be carried from Chicago at 9:30 p.m. (EST) Monday over ABC.

Stevenson was asked for comment on a speech at Washington last night by Dr. Laurence H. Snyder, dean of Oklahoma University's graduate school and president-elect of the American Assn. for the Advancement of Science, told an atomic radiation meeting nuclear tests may lead to atomic war and "universal death."

Speech "Complete Surprise"

Stevenson said the speech came as "complete surprise". He added:

"It is consistent with the information I have had for many, many months and seems to confirm what I have said about the hazards of continuing these tests."

Stevenson was asked about the progress he was making in the five states he visisted this week—California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

"I feel very pleased," he said. "But, of course, this is no occasion for over-optimism."

Stevenson also was asked about his statement at San Diego Friday night that Eisenhower is "an aging President" and the future belong not to him but to "his young, anointed and ambitious vice president—Mr. Nixon."

Stevenson said he could not elaborate except to note that Eisenhower celebrates his 66th birthday next week. A reporter wanted to know if Stevenson thought 66 too old to run for President. He replied: "No, I didn't say that."

As to what he meant by Nixon being "anointed," Stevenson said "hand-picked might be another

Says Union Man As Important As Any Millionaire

Ike Defends Use of Businessmen To Handle Huge U.S. Spending

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower warmly defended Friday night his use of men from "big business" in key administration jobs. But he also told a member of a garment workers union "you are just as important to me as any millionaire that ever walked the earth."

In an unprecedented nationwide radio-TV question and answer session, Eisenhower also said key nations involved in the Suez Canal crisis had at long last "agreed on a set of principles on which to negotiate," and he added, to applause from his audience in the room:

Both during and after the broadcast, Eisenhower replied to questions from what the White House called "a cross section of Americans" invited to Washington from all sections of the country by the National Citizens for Eisenhower Committee. He met with them in a Washington hotel.

Asked About Businessmen

The broadcast portion had ended when he got an inquiry dealing with the men from "big business" to whom he has given top government jobs.

Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, has been accusing Eisenhower of turning over his administration to big business and forgetting about "the little fellow."

Against that background, Isadore Siegal of New York identified himself as a member of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union for 25 years and "an independent voter." Then he told Eisenhower:

"You have a lot of people that are big shots in the cabinet. I want to ask you, Mr. President, do you think of all the working people alike—like in the big business?"

Sitting in the room with Eisenhower, you could see his jaw set, his face flush just a bit. Then he noted that he had remarked earlier that he grew up in a family that had to struggle to make ends meet. And he went on to tell Siegal:

"You or anybody else is just as important to me as any millionaire that ever walked the earth.

"Now I have three or four very successful businessmen in my cabinet. My friend, the Defense Department is spending something like 40 billion dollars a year of our money.

"Who would you rather have in charge of that—some failure who never did anything, or a successful businessman?"

Referring then to Secretary of Defense Wilson, former president of General Motors Corp., Eisnhower went on in crackling tones:

Legal Opinion Awaited In Township Case

Unanswered "$64 questions" are holding up the appointment of a trustee to fill a vacancy on the Perry Township trustees' board.

Five have applied for the job.

Since Mr. Fernengel died the present trustees, Joseph G. Reese and Dale Paxson, have carried on. Legally this is alright but there has been some public expression over the delay in appointing a third trustee.

The power of appointment rests with Wade Loop, who is justice of the peace in Perry township. Loop has delayed in making the appointment because he wants the job but can not appoint himself.

He could resign as "JP" and be appointed trustee by the other township justice of the peace, William Rich, Jr., if the latter would agree, but just who would have the power of authority to name a new "JP" is not quite clear.

A Columbiana County "JP" commission was formed during the past year to appoint justices of the peace.

That commission is composed of Judge Joel H. Sharp and Louis Tobin and Galen Greenisen, president of the county commissioners.

RELEASED UNDER BOND

John Taylor Offers Lollipops To Opponent

At the Ohio Democratic farm rally at Ohio State Fairgrounds, Taylor held his transparent bag of lollipops aloft and asked if newsmen would distribute its contents "to politicians who are acting like tired, screaming children after a long day at the fair."

"I would like to be sure," Taylor added, "that three or four get to my opponent. Lollipops are the best things to stop a cry baby."

His Republican opponent is former Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert who has been engaged recently in a verbal feud with Ohio Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy over operations of the commission.

Bible Words for Today

I CORINTHIANS 14:12—"Since you are eager for the manifestations of the Spirit, strive to excel in the building up of the church." (RSV)

* * *

Today when the church is being challenged by forces of darkness there is great need for "oneness of spirit." I Corinthians was written to a divided church; divided because of the non-essentials as evidenced by the question of tongues and other spiritual gifts.

The different approaches made by religious groups do not necessarily mean there is division. However, when any group stresses its pet creedal position at the expense of the essentials, division is the result. One test of the value of any belief held by a branch of the church is the contribution it makes to the building up of the whole church.

Christianity can be made stronger by its various emphases, for these give a greater opportunity for reaching all the people. We can maintain our identity as denominations and at the same time present a united front against the forces of evil. Whatever spiritual light has come to any should be shared with all. It is a gift of God and we should "strive to excel in the building up of the Church." This is an obligation laid upon all of us.

The Rev. Norman U. Boone
First Methodist Church
Columbia, Miss.

Dear God... there's so much I'd like to say to You. It's that way lots of times. I want to talk to You, and then somehow I get stuck for words.

I guess I do some stupid things, sometimes... like that fight with Butch Hendley yesterday. He said something I didn't like and then I said something, and that was it. I guess I won, but afterwards I was kind of ashamed. I told Dad about it last night and he went for a walk with me and we looked up at the sky and the stars. Everything looked so big, all of a sudden, that it scared me. It seemed too big to understand.

Then Dad told me that there are lots of things like the sky and the stars, too big for people to ever understand. And he said that that's where Faith comes in, and that it is good to have the Church to put our trust in.

I got to thinking about that, and I told Dad that I'd kind of like to ask Butch to come to Church with us next Sunday morning, but that I was afraid he wouldn't come. Dad grinned at me and said, "Why not ask him and see?"

Dear God... I did ask Butch, and he's coming. Butch hasn't been to Church regularly like I have, so maybe when it comes to praying he'll get stuck for words even worse than I do. But You'll listen to him anyway, won't You? Because he needs You very much... just like I do... just like all of us do.

Thank You, God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Men Of Means

The minor tempest over which political party has more millionaires in it won't grow into a storm unless someone produces an all-weather definition of a millionaire.

This never has been done. There won't be time before election day to do it this year, to say nothing of the time there wouldn't be to find out how many men in each party measured up to the definition.

But the argument is not really over sums of money. It is over the Democratic claim that sympathy for the rest of us is phony unless it comes from Democrats, the self-proclaimed barefoot boys of politics.

This is supposed to divert attention from the fact Democrats are as well-heeled as the Republicans they deride for owning more than one pair of shoes. Franklin Roosevelt was clipping coupons when men like Alfred Landon, Wendell Willkie and Thomas Dewey were hoarding pennies.

Mr. Stevenson inherited his wealth, as did Averell Harriman, who is said to have spent upward of two million dollars' worth just trying to beat out Mr. Stevenson for the Democratic nomination. G. Mennen Williams, Sen. Lehman of New York, Stuart Symington of Missouri, Sen. Kerr of Oklahoma and many other Democrats are as well off financially as anyone in the Republican party.

Their barefoot-boy pitch is not only mentally dishonest but ludicrous. No one holds it against them for being men of means. Why do they go to so much trouble to divert attention from themselves?

A Zest For Living

In this modern era, we are increasingly aware that a man's age in years is less reliable than his ability to fulfill an active role — to live until he dies.

Thus, the significance of President Eisenhower's 66th birthday lies not in the onest of his 67th year but in the breadth and depth of his continued desire for living. The manner in which he has plunged into his second presidential campaign attests to the fact that his approach to life's challenges is more vibrant than that of most people at 36 or 46.

Throughout this life, the President has shied from the narcosis of relaxing for the sake of relaxing. His moments of rest and recreation have rather been periods of "rearming" to attack new and more difficult battles than those he had won before.

It is frequently heard that Ike would have been wiser to have chosen the peace and quiet of his Gettysburg home over the rigors of a second term; that after so long a life of outstanding service he deserves the leisurely life of a gentleman farmer.

What purveyors of this view overlook is that Dwight Eisenhower is not the sort of man who has "declining" years. Retirement for him would be more punishment than reward.

At 66, he is no less at the prime of his capacity for zestful living than he was 20 or 30 years ago.

Happy Birthday, Mr. President.

Dry Run

When Sen. Francis P. Case of S. Dakota alleged last Feb. 3 that questionable lobbying had been done on the Harris-Fulbright bill to exempt natural gas producers from federal price controls, the fat was in the fire.

The bill, already approved in principle by the House, was passed, only to draw President Eisenhower's veto. The veto did not reflect any opposition to the bill, which the president said was sound, but to the lobbying in its behalf.

It was inevitable that the Senate would have an investigation. It also was inevitable, as skeptics declared at the time, that the investigation would be a dry run.

This has been confirmed by Sen. McLellan of Arkansas, chairman of the special committee set up to do the investigating. He says it has been impossible to get evidence. Only 42 of 96 senators replied to a questionnaire about lobbying.

Why were they reluctant?

Simply because every proposed law brings out lobbying, pro and con. Lobbying in itself is not bad, being no more than the right of petition. It is only bad when it is "improper," and no one knows better than a member of Congress the impossibility of drawing a line of distinction between "proper" and "improper."

Occasionally, the fat will be cast in the fire, as it was in the case of the Harris-Fulbright bill. But Congress does not consider an occasional mishap to be a reason for putting out the fire, any more than it considered Sen. Case's outburst last February to be a reason for defeating a good bill.

Christmas shopping days soon will be here and it'll be okay for Dad to come home with a load.

Religion At Work

By EUGENE CARR

The young sailor sat clutching a large white envelope as we taxied toward the runway for a take-off. His eyes followed the row of tiny windows that focused, one by one, on the waving crowd at the terminal gates. Finally, the giant plane swung around into position and the terminal disappeared from view. The sailor settled back in his seat and stared straight ahead.

His name was Jim. The large white envelope said so. It was from the U.S. Navy — official business. Jim had his travel orders.

Jim had been home on leave. He had finished his training in the hospital corps and was headed for a navy base in a foreign land. He had enjoyed being home, but he was anxious to get to his new assignment and the new work ahead. He hoped they would put him in the "labs" this time.

The hospital corps hadn't been his first choice of duty but they had told him men were needed badly in the service hospitals, so he'd put it down as one of his choices. Now he was glad, because he had decided he wanted to be a doctor. He would finish college and go on to medical school when he got out of the navy.

Jim had been a pretty fair baseball pitcher in high school. In fact, he had played with a major league farm team one season until he had hurt his pitching arm. Then he had joined the navy and saved his money so he could get married. Mrs. Jim was his high school sweetheart, the only girl he ever had.

She was working in a florist shop. She liked that type of work. As soon as Jim was settled at his new base, she would join him. Together, they would work and save until they could go back to school. Yes, she would be going to college, too so she could teach while he was in medical school.

Jim did not seem to think the program he and his young wife had laid out for themselves would be either long or difficult. It would be interesting and exciting, he said. There is nothing like doing something to help people and that's what a doctor does, he said.

Jim is 22. He has three more years in the navy, two more years in college, then medical school and an internship. He will be 32 or 34 years old when he starts his practice.

"That's alright," Jim said. "Look what I'll have when I get through, and I'll be able to practice for 40 years!"

The world is full of young men like Jim and young wives like Mrs. Jim. They won't all reach their goals, but they are planning and working to tie their lives to a useful purpose and that is better than not planning and working and having no purpose at all.

So They Say

The free world looks to the United States for leadership in standing firm against the Communist push. We must not now betray that leadership by loose talk of soon ending the draft. —President Eisenhower.

Remorse will never leave him. Further, he (S-Sgt. Matthew McKeon) is the father now of three children. He may be expected to appreciate the feelings of those whose sons were lost that fateful night. —Navy Secretary Charles Thomas permits McKeon of "death march" fame to stay in the Marine Corps.

OUR PRESIDENTS

HERBERT CLARK HOOVER

Son of a Quaker blacksmith, born August 10, 1874, West Branch, Iowa. Orphaned at 10, he lived on farms with relatives in Iowa and Oregon. Ambitious to be an engineer, he attended Pacific Academy and worked his way through Stanford University, graduating in 1895. His first job was shoveling ore at $2.50 a day. Before he was 40, he had engineered all over the world and was known as an expert technician and executive.

Adding no more to his personal fortune, he was engaged without salary for eight years from 1914 to provision populations and to handle difficult, critical negotiations with foreign countries and relief organizations. He became famous. Appointed Secretary of Commerce, 1921, he made that office a major agency in stabilizing economic life, and was chosen Republican candidate for President in 1928.

Inaugurated thirty-first President of the United States March 4, 1929, he was immediately confronted with world-wide economic collapse started by the huge losses of World War I. He closed the door to immigration and promoted numerous panic and emergency relief measures. He proposed the moratorium which probably saved Europe from complete disaster, and pushed through Congress a reconstruction program of public works and federal loans. He made radio broadcasts and a nation-wide tour to explain that his legislation was promoting recovery. But popular discontent caused by the severe "depression" defeated him for re-election. He returned to his home on the Stanford campus, near Palo Alto, California, where he had founded the Hoover Library on the causes of war. Since then, however, he has been active on governmental and industrial committees. His judgment is highly respected. Acknowledged as an authority on problems of poverty, education, science and industry, he has received countless awards and honorary degrees, and been honored by many societies and countries.

A serious man of tireless energy, he is shy and reserved in public but in reality is a distinctly human individual. He enjoys fishing and reading.

Reds Want Bomb Ban

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Communists Pleased At Stevenson's Proposals

WASHINGTON

The Communists have achieved one of the most important of their propaganda victories in the "cold war". They can gloat over the fact that proposals for a prohibition of superbomb tests now are being debated in the presidential campaign in the United States and are attracting worldwide attention. For years—in fact, ever since the Russians tested their first A-bomb in 1949—an insidious campaign, mostly through "left-wing" circles, has been carried on in the forums of world opinion in an attempt to bring about and ending of the tests.

Lawrence

The Daily Worker — the Communist organ in New York — and other Communist party newspapers abroad have for several years harped on the issue of A-bomb tests. Now that Adlai Stevenson has given prominence in his own speeches to the idea of banning H-bomb tests, the Communist press is playing up everything said on the subject and commending the Democratic presidential nominee for the position he is taking.

What is back of this steady effort of the Moscow regime to focus attention on H-bomb tests? What is behind the constant emphasis on the supposed willingness of the Soviets to keep any agreement banning the use of superbombs?

THE ANSWER LIES in the field of military strategy. When the United States dropped the atom bomb on Japan, Soviet Russia did not have the weapon. For a long time thereafter, the American and British position was that possession of this bomb served as a deterrent in preventing Communist armies from overrunning Europe.

When the Communists themselves announced in 1949 that they had "an atomic weapon," they knew they couldn't manufacture them in the quantity or variety that the United States could. Military strategists of the Moscow regime knew also that if they could prevent further development in America, through tests this would afford the Soviet Union a big advantage in the next war.

The Stevenson idea of a one-sided ban on superbomb tests is not altogether new. Inside the Atomic Energy Commission during the Truman administration, there was a hesitancy to develop the H-bomb. The lag of nearly three years was costly to America.

The argument was supposedly based on the moral side. Some of the scientists indirectly connected with Communist causes were lined up against further work on the H-bomb. Hence, America from 1946 to early 1950 virtually put a self-imposed ban on developing or testing H-bombs while Russia went ahead with the development of bombs of all kinds and was thereby able to adopt a belligerent attitude in the "cold war" and even to instigate Red Chinese aggression in Korea.

IT WAS SUGGESTED in April of this year in a public speech by Adlai Stevenson that America should halt the testing on her own and wait and see what Russia did. The argument he made was that the United States could later "reconsider" and resume the testing if Russia made any more tests.

President Eisenhower has answered this by revealing that it takes months of preparation for the tests and valuable time would be lost if America refrained, then waited to see what Russia would do.

Apologists for Adlai Stevenson's position are saying that the United States could go right on with her preparations anyway and then, if Russia didn't keep her word, the tests could be resumed and no time would be lost.

This is tantamount to suggesting that the United States would agree to stop the tests and would actually break faith by preparing for the tests anyhow.

As a matter of fact, such preparations would be useless without constant tests of some kind. Scientists cannot work in the dark in preparing for ests they don't know they will be permitted to make.

Another fallacy exists among defeatists who want to place American security in jeopardy by putting trust in Russian talk about banning tests.

It has, for example, been said by Mr. Stevenson and others that if Soviet Russia broke faith and did do some testing, this would be promptly detected.

But the truth is, tests can be concealed. Some able scientists say this can be readily accomplished and that the U.S. government knows it can be done.

WHAT THE WHOLE thing amounts to is this: Soviet Russia wants superbombs banned. When that happens, the big land armies of the Communists will dominate Europe. It's a strategic move.

If an easily deluded man is ever elected to be president of the United States and falls for these proposals, disaster for the American people can result.

Tests are necessary in order to determine not merely how to drop bombs in a war against an aggressor but how to intercept bombing planes that carry them before those planes get across the ocean.

The tests have a defensive as well as an offensive purpose. To ban them is to jeopardize America's safety.

If any one thing will alienate votes for Mr. Stevenson, it is his naive attitude toward proposals to ban tests of superbombs.

Purely Personal

By TRUMAN TWILL

In politics, as in everything else, timing is of the essence. Does anyone else have the impression Adlai Stevenson started to slide into second base too soon and may run out of momentum before the end of October?

For sheer beauty, nothing can beat a frost-encrusted landscape in the country, although I cannot enjoy the sight because it always strikes me as terrifying.

If you get curious about what you do with your time, a few days with a notebook and a pencil will reveal the ghastly truth—that you spend most of it doing hings you were not aware of, but which all consumed time.

Do not get talked into a bet that "transpire" and "perspire" mean different things. Both mean to give off liquid through the skin.

One of a thousand things I'd like to do and never will get around to doing is to spend October in northern Canada.

This tidbit of information proves useful in shutting the mouths of people who try to make generalizations about the relative intelligence of Negroes and whites—that in both World Wars the rejection rate of military registrants for failure to meet minimum intelligence standards was higher for deep southern whites than for Negroes, in states with desegregated education.

At this stage in a political campaign, I feel sorry for the candidates. No one feels like being friendly all the time, and anyone who pretends to be friendlier than he feels hates himself.

No matter how hard I try, the idea of Columbus Day eludes me. Personally, I am for Amerigo Vespucci, because Amerigo got here first and we named the continent after him, didn't we?

If you hang around long enough, someone will steal your ideas and get credit for being a genius. that windups used by pitchers Although having no ball-playing ability, I always have insisted were showboating at best and detrimental to control a worst. Larsen and Turley of the Yankees have proved tht point and will start a revolution in pitching style.

Pick out six political races whose contenders' names are household words in your opinion, then ask the next six people you meet who is running in the races. It takes all kinds of households to make a world.

Something over which I have no control make me want to step on all too - tiny dogs. Nothing against the little beasts, to speak of—just an impulse to step on them, like bugs.

At first I thought it was a typgraphical error when Margaret Sullavan's age in a recent TV fiasco story was given as 45. That is one of the things which throw you off balance. The world keeps getting fuller of people who keep getting older.

I think all food will be prepared in advance some day, just as much of it already is, and am encouraging the culinary division of my household to keep pace with the times by experimenting with all new offerings.

Once Over

Durante With Pipe and Slippers

Jimmy Durante, perhaps America's most beloved clown, is to be married. He has decided to stop yelling "It's mutiny" at Cupid.

Margie Little is to be the Schnozzola's bride. The date has not been set. Maybe Jimmy is waiting for a spot where the bow and arrow routine will fit into the script.

Millions will wish the country's most popular song and dance man and his bride the fullest happiness, but we never cease to wonder at the problems ahead. How can a fellow as busy in all phases of show business as Durante ever find time for the pipe and slippers routine?

What will be his reactions when the wife says, "I don't care what your plans are for tonight; let's stay home and see if we can get a TV show. There may be something good on."

It is hard to picture Jimmy as an ideal home man, in view of the fact he lives and breathes show business, and never more so than for the past 20 years. Laughter and applause are second nature to him.

Every married man knows that while he can get laughter he can't depend on much applause around the house. The laughter will be in the wrong spots.

There are disputes in everybody's domestic life and it is impossible to get out of an argument by going into a dance routine. Not even a half dozen script writers can be of any help to Jimmy in a situation where he has his mind made up on some matter and the wife has entirely different views.

A COMEDIAN like Jimmy has become accustomed to deafening applause, even when the material is not the best. There are long hours in married life when, even with love pretty dominant, no loud cheers or hand-clapping can be expected.

Durante demands an "entrance," the center of the stage, the dance mood and the surefire exit. When things are not going so good he can always smash up a piano, dissemble the orchestra and go into "Dija ever have a feelin' ya wanted to go and still have a feelin' ya wanted to stay?" But this will be strictly no dice around the house. We doubt if even crumpled hats will help.

On TV, Jimmy finds a wonderful finale when he exits in a series of spotlight encirclements, but this can never happen at home. When a married man says, "I'm going out," all the spotlights in the world can't guarantee the wife's reactions will be warm.

Durante is a slave to show business in all phases and is in rehearsals, huddles, etc., much of the time. "I was detained at the office" isn't much of an excuse for the ordinary married man. A wife is no less skeptical when he says, "We had to whip the show together at the last minute. Everything went wrong."

JOE E. LEWIS to an audience a little slow on the laughs: "I've got a very funny story I could tell but I don't want to destroy your mood."

Joe is close to being the funniest of all monologists and is a top ah-libber . . . Annoyed by a fly which kept lighting on his sleeve on the Sullivan TV show he quipped, "This must have come from the Steve Allen program."

When Ima Dodo wanted to listen to Premier Nasser of Egypt on the Ed Murrow interview she asked, "Is he on Canal 2 or Canal 4?" . . . Our set went bad during the Nasser-interview and we feared for a minute that he had nationalized it.

Portsmouth Has No Telephones

Strike Negotiations Again At Impasse

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP)—This strife-torn Ohio River city has a telephone blackout today for the second time in less than a month.

Negotiations between the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. and the striking Communications Workers of America (CWA) are seemingly at an impasse. Gov. Frank J. Lausche is the only man who can end the strike, the company indicated.

Company officials announced that they would not attend a state industrial commission hearing Wednesday which was called to allow each side to air its grievances.

The company said it set up temporary headquarters in Columbus to serve "the 23 of our 24 counties where telephone service is available."

91-Day Strike

In an earlier statement, Company President C. E. Williams said he believes only "personal intervention by the governor" will bring an end to the 91-day strike.

Gov. Lausche was unavailable for comment.

Williams announced just before 4:30 p. m. (EST) Friday that service to Portsmouth and Scioto-ville was being discontinued.

Later, an official said the blackout also affected the rest of Scioto County and estimated that 17,000 of the company's 58,000 subscribers are without service.

A letter, from company Atty. Sid Griffith to the industrial commission and Gov. Lausche, said Wednesday's hearing would "infringe upon collective bargaining rights secured by federal law."

Using Old Law

In announcing the hearing, the commission said it was following an old but little used law which permits it to step into labor wrangles.

But Griffith maintained the commission has "no jurisdiction in the matter . . . to require either party" to attend the hearing.

Williams expressed regret that service was halted, but said the company had "no other recourse in this reign of terror."

He apparently referred to a demonstration here Thursday night in which the company said 500 persons participated and six company trucks were burned.

Williams said the company will not continue negotiations until the CWA provides an entirely new bargaining team.

"We will not be bludgeoned by the union bargaining committee," he declared.

Union Denies Vandalism

The union has steadfastly denied knowledge of acts of vandalism during the strike. It has argued that it is striking to keep benefits gained through the years.

The earlier three-day telephone blackout at Portsmouth started Sept. 18 after a fight between strikers and company supervisors. It ended three days later with rpresentatives of Gov. Lausche inducing the company and area law enforcement officials to sign an agreement pledging adequate protection for company officials and property.

The American Telephone and Telegraph Co. reported Friday night that one of its cables in Portsmouth was sliced, cutting off Associated Press news service to the Portsmouth Times.

And Portsmouth's two radio stations went off the air temporarily Friday night, Ohio Consolidated said. WPAY was off the air for three hours when a cable reportedly was cut, and WNXT was able to operate locally, but lost its network.

The local Western Union office also experienced some difficulty when one of its regular lines was disconnected, apparently when the telephone exchange was closed Ohio Consolidated said.

Linder Scores 5 TDs As East Palestine Trounces Salem 41-6

Bulldog Defense Snarls Quakers

E. Palestine Fullback Has Scored 16 TDs

By BOB McARTOR

Jim Linder, a 190-pound fullback on the East Palestine football eleven, who is all man, all football, and All-Ohio material ran wild last night, scoring five touchdowns to lead East Palestine to a 41-6 win over the Salem Quakers in what looked more like a track meet than a football game.

Linder, a senior and captain of the Palestine team, now has scored 16 TDs in five games, and nine in the last two. He gained a total of 115 yards in 19 carries for six yard per carry average. Running with great power and drive, he often carried three or four men until he was thrown off balance.

But added to this, the East Palestine team is a unit of eleven men working with everything they've got to win. Spirit and determination are the leading factors in their success thus far and it runs through every man from the first stringers down to the last scrub.

BALL CONTROL in the first half led a 27-0 halftime score for the Bulldogs. Salem ran a total of nine plays in the first two periods gaining a total of only 13 yards from scrimmage. The largest gain in the first period was a one-yard plunge by fullback Larry Hepler on one of Salem's four opening quarter plays.

East Palestine won the toss and elected to receive, defending the north goal. The kickoff was taken by Tommy Young, Bulldog quarterback, and returned to the 50 yard line. Here the foe started a 13 play drive, led by Linder who ran the ball six times.

The surge was capped by a six yard touchdown run with the "iron man" carrying two would-be Salem tacklers with him to pay dirt. Adding the extra point on a line plunge, Linder made the score East Palestine 7-0 six minutes into the first period.

THE BULLDOGS then kicked off to Salem with Ralph Ehrhart bringing the ball back to the 26. Here the ball died. The Palestine defense, which has had a total of three TDs scored against it this season, dug in and in three plays the Quakers found themselves exactly where they started, on the 26.

This set up a familiar situation with the Bulldogs on the 50, and in eight plays from scrimmage, which were mixed up well by Young, the Bulldogs' Linder went in for his second TD of the night and again he added the extra point, dropping the Quakers back 14-0 seconds into the second period.

Linder kicked off to Lani Waiwaiole on the 10. Lani returned to the 19 and in one play ran to the 24. On the next play a Salem pass from Joe Bryan was intercepted by Larry Britton on the 35 and taken back to the Quaker 16. Four plays and another Linder touchdown later Salem was trailing 21-0.

Again the foe kicked off and in a blink of the eye and a fumble, the Palestine "Blitzkreig" was unleashed once more. Commencing from the 31 the first play went to the Salem 21 and first and ten. A fine run to the three-yard line by Dave Heck was recalled to the 19 due to a clipping penalty on Palestine.

However this did not mar the polished offense as Linder romped to the two yard line and in one play piled his way into the end zone and TD number four for "Old Faithful."

WITH FIVE MINUTES left in the first half and the Red and Blaok trailing 27-0, the Quaker offensive machine bogged down on the 20 and a punt got Salem out of the jam.

Palestine tried desperately to score and almost made it as Linder dove head first into the end zone on a pass from Young, but the referee ruled his knee touched on the one and with that the first half came to a close.

The second half was nearly a repeat performance of the first. Salem took the kickoff and on the very first play a quick pass intended for Roy Yeager from Bryan was picked off on the 21 of Salem. In nine plays Palestine produced their fifth TD on an end sweep by Young five minutes into the third period.

Once again the Bulldog kickoff was taken by Salem and once again the offense produced nothing as the foe took the ball on a punt and marched 58 yards to their sixth TD of the game. The score was made by Linder who went over his guard and with a tremendous burst of speed streaked through the secondary and outran a lone defender in a 45 yard race to score.

THE BRUCEMEN tallied their lone touchdown two minutes into the final period as a combination of a 24-yard pass play from Meissner to Ehrhart and a one yard plunge by Ehrhart set the score at 41-6. The extra point attempt was blocked, as the Bulldogs kept alive their tradition of allowing only six points per game, if the opponent scores at all.

The remainder of the last period was used up with Palestine on control of the ball. Victorious coach John Hogan used every player in uniform in the game with the second and third stringers seeing considerable action in the final quarter.

Next week the Salemites will face the Wellsville Bengals at Reilly Stadium in the renewal of a spirited rivalry which has been going on for many years. Wellsville has not beaten the Quakers in 13 years.

Player Pulls Out Tooth With Pliers, Plays Again

NEW ULM, Minn. (AP) —Tackle Harry Kuehn, a 195-pounder, was in tears when he had to leave a bruising game between Holy Trinity High School and Faribault Bethlehem Academy because of a broken tooth.

When he saw Bethlehem score a touchdown over his position, he called for a string to pull out the broken tooth. None was available, so trainer Tom Manderfeld provided a pair of mechanic's pliers used to tighten cleats.

Kuehn yanked out the tooth with the pliers. When the bleeding stopped, he returned to the game and sparked his team to a 26-6 win.

DeMarco Is Favored Over Kid Gavilan

BOSTON (AP) — A title match was the goal of former welterweight champions Tony DeMarco and Kid Gavilan as they prepared for their scheduled 10 round fight tonight at Boston Garden.

Gavilan, the Cuban Keed, picked up tremendously in his last few days of gym workouts — then said he purposely had held back in the early drills because he was afraid the DeMarco camp would pull out.

In fact, Gavilan suddenly became so impressive the odds on DeMarco dropped quickly from 3-to 1 to 10-7 and some observers felt it would be down to 6 - 5 by fight time.

DeMarco, the 24-year-old slugger from Boston's north end, still considered the hardest hitter in the welter division, seeks the crown he won from Johnny Saxton and lost to Carmen Basilio 60 days later in 1955.

The 30 - year - old Cuban cutie with the famed bolo punch wants the title just as much. Gavilan insists he was "jobbed" when he lost a 15-round decision and his title to Saxton in October of 1954. Further, says the Kid, Saxton's manager and the IBC refused to honor a return bout clause so he was denied a chance to regain the title.

The contract for tonight's bout, which will not be televised or broadcast, calls for a 148 pound weight limit for both contestants. Neither expected any trouble weighing in under that figure.

Summer Tan Is Favored In $100,000 Gold Cup

CHICAGO (AP) — Summer Tan and Dedicate, a couple of Eastern thoroughbreds, were favored to run one-two in today's $100,000 Gold Cup feature race which closes the Hawthorne meeting.

Summer Tan, owned by Mrs. John Galbreath, and who will be ridden by Dave Erb, comes off a victory in the Vosburgh Handicap at Belmont. Summer Tan will tote 119 pounds for the 1¼ mile race.

Dedicate, owned by Mrs. Jan Burke, is top-weighted with 120 pounds and will be ridden by Bill Boland. Dedicate has won two important stakes — the Brooklyn Handicap and the Whitney Stakes.

Also entered are Hasseyampa, last year's winner, Ja Ja, Tussle Patch, Nonnie Jo, Sea O Erin, Social Outcast and Traffic Judge.

Cleveland —Rory Calhoun, 160½ White Plains, N. Y., stopped John L. Sullivan, 162, England, 8.

A senior, Miss Liebhart, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Frank of 491 Perry St., will receive the crown from last year's queen, Miss Judy Weingart.

Nashua Makes Final Racing Start Today

By JOHN CHANDLER

NEW YORK (AP) — Nashua bids goodbye to racing today in the Jockey Club Gold Cup at Belmont Park, after which the 2-year-old stars tackle the rich Futurity Stakes on an afternoon reeking in tradition and greenbacks.

The sparkling program promises a big afternoon with seven horses in the Gold Cup, and 14 in the Futurity, but overall looms the shadow of the great sire—Nasrullah.

Perhaps never before in this country have the sons of one stallion dominated two such major stakes races, with Nasrullah having sired three starters in each race — including the two top choices in both events.

Nashua, who is making the 30th and final start of his colorful career, is expected to rule a 4-5 choice in the two-mile Gold Cup with Mister Gus next at 5-2.

In the Futurity, six and one half furlongs down the Widener straight course, Bold Ruler is favored at 6-5, with the entry of Nashville and Blue Spruce next at 5-2.

The 4-year-old Nashua, 5-year-old Mister Gus, and the two juveniles, Bold Ruler and Nashville, all are sons of Nasrullah. So are the Cain Hoy Stable's Flying Fury, the Manhattan Handicap winner, who goes in the Gold Cup, and George D. Widener's Amarullah, a Futurity candidate.

Eddie Arcaro will try for his seventh Gold Cup with Nashua, and his fifth Futurity aboard Bold Ruler, winner of six races in seven starts.

The futurity will gross $125,595, with the winner netting $91,895 provided all start, and if seven go in the Gold Cup, it will be worth $54,700, with $36,600 to the winner.

Stengel, Signed For 2 More Years, Hunts 3rd Outfielder

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Now that his own status has been resolved — he's going to be back at the helm for two more years — manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees today turned to ways and means of keeping the World Championship banner flying over Yankee Stadium.

"Right now," he rasped, "our weak spot is left field. If we made a trade, it will be for another outfielder. I'm set with Hank Bauer in right and Mickey Mantle in center."

About 40-year-old Enos Slaughter, Stengel said he doesn't plan to go along with him for another year, adding that he is reserving the right to change his mind.

"After all," he said, "we bought him in the first place for insurance and pinch hitting."

Stengel signed a new two-year contract Friday, calling for about $75,000 a year.

"A lot of people have been saying I'm getting old and ought to quit, winked the 66-year-old pilot who has won six world championships in eight years with the Bombers. "But I don't see why I should retire when my health is good. And it's as good right now as it was in the spring."

Stengel is independently wealthy and does not have to worry about his baseball income these days. In addition to other holdings, he owns several oil wells that net him a pretty penny.

Stengel revealed that he was going to pay close attention to the no-windup pitching delivery in the spring.

Don Larsen used it in his perfect no-hitter against the Brooklyn Dodgers in the Series and Bob Turley employed it the next day in a 1-0 loss in 10 innings.

"Maybe they've really got something there," he said. "But whether they can stay with it, I don't know. It could be that after the batters get used to it, they'll have to shift back to the windup.

"Also it's my guess that only a strong-armed pitcher can use it. However, it's worth looking into and trying. And judging by the success of Larsen had with it, there are going to be an awful lot of pitchers trying it."

Senators' Directors To Discuss Transfer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The question of whether the Washington Senators will be moved to another city this year may come to a head next Friday when the club's directors hold their next regular meeting.

Calvin Griffith, president of the American League club, said Friday night that "if I have a concrete proposition, I will submit it to the board at that time."

"As yet," Griffith said, "We have had no offers in writing."

Even if a firm proposal should come in by the Oct. 19 meeting, several obstacles would seem to make unlikely any shift of the franchise at least until after next season.

For one thing, the league would have to approve any move for the coming season before Oct. 31 — only 12 days after the next directors' meeting here.

Furthermore, H. Gabriel Murph, the Senators' treasurer and holder of a 40 per cent interest in the team, has threatened possible legal action to block any move to another city.

Griffith conceded Murphy could "slap an injunction on us and delay any shift of our franchise."

U.S. Olympic Team To Compete Today

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP)—America's finest Olympic track and field team sharpens up in an invitational meet today with the top performers mindful they still can be bumped by formidable competition.

It is an Olympic Games "preview," sponsored by the San Francisco Chronicle to help pay the team's expenses to and from the Olympic Games in Melbourne, Australia next month.

Making up the team are the three top qualifiers in each event in the final trials in Los Angeles last June 30, plus an alternate in each event who will make the trip if one of the top three is ill or otherwise indisposed.

But the heat will be on all of them. Coach Jim Kelly of Minnesota has made it clear any of the athletes can be bumped if he has failed to maintain the standard displayed in the final trials last summer.

Five of the nine athletes competing against the squad members are hopeful of nudging into a place on the team, an outfit that includes ten world record holders.

Scheffing Fires All Of Hack's Cub Coaches

CHICAGO (AP) — Bob Scheffing, newly appointed manager of the Chicago Cubs, doesn't have much experience but that doesn't keep him from being a fast worker.

Scheffing, 41, fired all three coaches who served under ex-manager Stan Hack Friday shortly after he received his appointment.

A former catcher with the Chicago Cubs, Scheffing led the Los Angeles Angels to the pennant in the Pacific Coast League this season. His first act as Cub manager was to request the resignations of coaches Ray Blades, Pepper Martin and Dutch Leonard.

Scheffing did not name his own coaches immediately.

His appointment completed a reorganization move by the Cubs. The Cubs Thursday accepted the resignations of Hack, business manager Jim Gallagher and personnel director Wid Matthews.

John Holland, who was Scheffing's boss at Los Angeles, was named vice president as was Charlie Grimm, former manager of Milwaukee and the Cubs.

Scheffing has had three years experience as a minor league manager. He was player-manager of Washington, Pa., of the Penn State Assn. in 1939 and managed Los Angeles the last two seasons. Scheffing was a catcher with the Cubs from 1941 through 1950.

He was traded to Cincinnati in 1951 and finished the season with the St. Louis Cardinals. The following year he became a coach with the St. Louis Browns and in 1954 he joined the Cubs as a coach.

Ratterman Believes He's Hitting Stride

CLEVELAND (AP) — Quarterback George Ratterman of the Cleveland Browns thinks he's beginning to hit his stride, and Sunday's home opener with the New York Giants may tell whether he's right.

Playing regularly is bound to help him, Ratterman feels.

"When Otto (Graham) was here," he explained, "I'd get keyed up before a game—you always do. Then I wouldn't play and there was no way to release the tension. I tried to do it the other way, not get myself keyed up, but then I got worried about that. Suppose I was all loose and relaxed and something happened to Otto. Well, I wouldn't be mentally ready. It was sort of being in-between.

"It stands to reason you get more practice passing under game conditions. Look, you can give a kid a book to read on how to bat or how to field, but he won't learn unless he tries it. You have to pass under pressure conditions to do it well."

3 Top Ohio Teams Defeated Friday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three teams in the upper echelon of Ohio scholastic football circles went down to defeat Friday night, one for the first time this season.

Toledo Libbey, ranked third in The Associated Press weekly poll, fell before a city rival, Toledo Scott, 21-12. Libbey was previously unbeaten in four contests.

Massillon, second on the list, dumped Cleveland Benedictine, the No . 10 team, 27-7. The loss gave Benedictine a 2-2 mark.

First-ranked Canton McKinley and sixth-place Cleveland St. Ignatius tangle today.

In contests involving others in the elite 10, fifth-place East Cleveland Shaw whipped Lakewood, 33-12, eighth-rated Troy nipped Dayton Fairmont, 7-6, and Youngstown Ursuline, ninth - ranked, defeated Alliance, 21-7.

Salem Youth Stars On University Team

Gerry Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Hartman of 430 W. State St., Salem, is a member of the varsity cross country team at Kent State University.

He recently finished second in a dual meet with Case Tech. It was the first meeting for both schools, Kent State winning 34-21.

Rory Calhoun Stops Sullivan

Winner Credits His Hard Body Punches

The 22-year-old White Plains, N. Y., slugger, currently No. 6 among the middleweight contenders, had Sullivan a dazed and helpless target when referee Jackie Davis halted the fight nine seconds into the eighth round.

It was a straight right to he jaw that floored Sullivan for a three-count which the bell interrupted at the end of the seventh and it was a trio of rights to the jaw that preceded the stopping of the scheduled 10-rounder.

But Sullivan himself said in the dressing room afterward that "The hardest punch of the fight" was a left hook that thudded squarely into his stomach early in the seventh round. After that one landed it was just a matter of how much time Calhoun would need to finish his game opponent.

"Those body punches wear you down," Calhoun observed in summing up his winning technique. "Most of those European fighters have good defenses, but they keep guarding their head. I went for his body and figured he'd start slowing up from those punches."

The victory was the 24th in 25 fights for Calhoun who weighed 160½ to Sullivan's 162. The bout was nationally televised.

Miami, Fla., Beats Maryland Terps 13-6

By The Associated Press

Miami passed for both its touchdowns in racking up its third straight victory. Quarterback Sam Scarnecchia tossed a 23-yarder to John Bookman in the second period, and Bonnie Yarborough passed 6 yards to Jack Johnson for the other score in the third quarter.

Maryland drove 80 yards through the rain for its lone touchdown in the fourth quarter. Fred Petrella scored on a one - yard plunge, but it wasn't enough to prevent the Terps from absorbing their third defeat. They have won only once.

A touchdown by fullback Buddy Davis in the third period was all Richmond needed to overcome a 3-0 citadel lead.

Leetonia Rips Clippers 32-0

By GORDON ARNDT

It was a familar story for Leetonia High School football fans last night at Columbiana.

Not only did they witness the Bears in an easy 32 - 0 win over the offensive-less Clippers, but they beheld a brilliant display of football versatility on the part of the victors' over worked halfback, Bob Peet.

Besides scoring four touchdowns and one extra point, the hard-charging 165 pounder averaged 5.5 yards in 20 carries, ran back a punt 51 yars, returned a kickoff for 41 more, and caught a pass for 13 other yards.

Leetonia scored the first time they took possession of the pigskin. The Bears had kicked off and Columbiana, unable to originate any offense, punted to Leetonia's 38 yard line.

Five first downs and 58 yards later the victors had a new series starting from the Clippers four yard marker. On his third straight try, Peet cracked over from the one. Joe Mango's attempt for the Bear's seventh point failed.

LOU ALTOMARE AND Jim Rance took turns recovering Columbiana fumbles immediately after Leetonia had kicked off. Unable to click with their first advantage, the Leetonians were not cut short on their second attempt. Mango gained four yards on the first two downs and mixed in with his team's five-yard offisde infraction, the ball rested 24 yards away from the Clippers' goal line.

Peet made that up in short time as he skirted around left end to give Leetonia a 12-0 lead. Nicolette handed off again to his right halfback and Columbiana was behind two touchdowns and one conversion.

Mango set up the third touchdown for Coach Pat Mancuso's proteges late in the second frame when he returned a punt by Columbiana's Marion Heck 38 yards to the Clippers 30.

Shortly afterward it was No. 40 again for Leetonia as Peet culminated a six-play scoring thrust by crossing into paydirt from one yard out. Mango ran the extra point and Leetonia was ahead, 19-0.

The Bears' Tom Hartley kicked off for the fourth time and for the first time in the penalty riddled contest, the Clippers put together a pattern of offensive manuevers which carried them 50 yards from their 40 to the Bears 10.

HOWEVER, THE BEARS' John Fieldhouse put an end to the losers' attempt to enter the scoring column by intercepting a pass thrown by Columbiana's John Murphy and returning it to his own 13 just as the half came to a close.

Columbiana kicked off to start the third quarter. Peet gathered the ball in on his own 17 and he wasn't caught until he reached the Clippers' 42. The winners couldn't make the most of this run by their star halfback, and Albert Kornbau punted out of bounds on his opponents' 14.

The Clippers made one first down while on the offense but were then forced to punt from their 30. Much to Columbiana's dismay, Heck kicked the ball in the direction of Peet again, and this time No. 40 ran the pigskin back 51 yards from his 30 to the losers 19.

Nicolette picked up 14 in a pair of carries and, coupled with Mango's four yard thrust, the ball was a yard away from LLeetonia's fourth score. On the next play Peet crashed over for his 82nd point of the year and Leetonia had widened their margin over the Clippers to 25-0. The conversion try failed, and Hartley kicked off again for Leetonia.

THE BEARS' FIFTH surge into paydirt came about after the visitors' Harley intercepted a Murphy aerial to give Leetonia possession on their own 46. Despite a plague of 15 yard penalties, the victors marched 54 yards in 10 plays across their foes' final yard marker, with Nicolette culminating the drive on a keep play from 16 yards out.

Paul Morris was in the right spot for his signal caller's pass and Leetonia tacked on their second extra point of the evening. The scoreboard now showed Columbiana behind, 32-0.

After the kickoff the home forces put together their second long drive of the night, moving from their 30 to Leetonia's 18 on yard eating aerials by Heck and Murphy. Here again the Bears' Fieldhouse put a damper on the Clippers' hopes by intercepting Murphy's pass in the end zone and returning it to his 18.

Columbiana went on the offense when Tom Arbuckle intercepted a Nicolette heave and returned it to Leetonia's 46. Four Clipper passes failed, but the home eleven got a break and a first down on the Bear's 21 when Leetonia was again penalized 15 yards. The yame came to a close shortly after Columbiana had clicked on one of two more aerials to move within striking distance at the Bears 14.

Don Larsen Tries Hand At Acting

The huge New York Yankee righthander who looks even bigger than his 6 feet 4, is here to appear with Bob Hope on a television show Oct. 21. Reputedly he will get $7,500 for the stint.

How does he feel about it all?

"There's been so much going on," said Larsen, "I haven't even had time for a beer in peace."

Larsen got in from New York Friday night and was properly introduced to Hollywood at the airport by a pair of embryo starlets garbed in not much.

He was rushed to a National Broadcasting Co. studio across town and presented to Hope, and a blonde garbed in a tight pair of shocking pink Capri pants and slouchy denim jacket.

Later the blonde changed to a black, scanty evening gown and Don inquired, "What was the girl's name?"

The blonde's name was Diana Dors a specialty from England and a co-star on Hope's program.

"It's easy. Just 'feel' the words," said one.

Don read them. A veteran of comic books second only to Yogi Berra of the Yankees, Don read them well enough, even if he didn't perhaps "feel" them at the moment.

"This is kinda new to me," he admitted.

Visitors departed. Said one, "Twelve o'clock curfew, Don."

Smith Faces Romack In Amateur Golf Semifinals

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Wiffie Smith and Barbara Romack, two young but experienced golfing veterans, collide today in the feature semifinal of the Transmississippi Amateur championship on the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course.

Polly Riley, the defending Trans - Miss champ from Ft. Worth, Tex., meets Mrs. James Ferrie, a two-time California state titleholder from Gardena, Calif., in the other 18-hole semi.

Barbara, 23-year-old Sacramento, Calif. blonde, and the redhaired Wiffie, a Texan from Orange, both went two over par Friday in winning quarterfinal matches. Mary Sargent of Pebble Beach lost to Barbara 6 and 4 as Wiffie was downing Mrs. Stradon Loveys, Los Angeles, 2 and 1.

Polly, a five-year Curtis Cup member, disposed of Mrs. Ruth McCullah, Santa Monica, Calif. grandmother, 5 and 3. Mrs. Ferrie, a golfer for 22 years, made good use of her experience to defeat Barbara Williams, 18, of Richmond, Calif., 1 up.

MODERN FOOTBALLER GOES TO WORK. Joe Schmidt, Detroit Lions linebacker, carries a field amplifier, microphone and helmet containing his tiny receiver as he reports for a practice session at Detroit. Schmidt was initiated into coach Buddy Parker's "Space Ship" division at Briggs Stadium. He tested the receiver in his helmet that will be used for relaying Lion defensive signals from bench for game with Los Angeles Rams tomorrow.

Blue Devils Roll Over Sebring

33-7 Loss Is Fifth For Trojan Squad

The Lisbon Blue Devils handed the Sebring Trojans their fifth straight loss of the season 33-7 in a one-sided game played Friday night at Lisbon.

Halfback Oren Liber paced the Blue Devil attack, scoring three touchdowns. Liber rammed over on a couple of plunges and scored another TD on a 42-yard run.

Halfbacks Denny Johnson and Wilford Carlisle accounted for the other six-pointer for Lisbon.

Lisbon tallied two touchdowns in the first period and one each in the other three.

The hapless Trojans scored their lone touchdown in the third period when halfback Carl Stillwagon carried over from three yards out. Art Tuel tallied the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

The victory gives the Blue Devils a 2 win-2 loss-1 tie record for the season.

Sebring will play its next game Friday when the Trojans meet the Columbiana Clippers on the formers' field.

Lisbon will play Louisville there next Friday.

Dodgers Play In Hawaii En Route To Japan

HONOLULU (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers arrived here today to play a three game series before continuing to Japan for a series before continuing to Japan for a series against Japan's mightiest baseball players.

The Bums took smallpox shots and attended a reception at the Royal Hawaiian hotel.

Manager Walter Alston said he would field a "name" team of the World Series veterans in Japan but said he "might try a few experiments" with some topflight young talent he brought along.

Alston said he expects Jackie Robinson "probably" will return for spring training next year to play with the Dodgers once more.

Leahy Favors Open Aid To Football Players

"The lads deserve the help," Leahy said Friday.

"Football players should be given scholarships to cover the necessities — no more and no less." Leahy said. "It would do away with hypocrisy"

Wilson Says Services May Be Cut But Will Need More Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson says the armed forces may be reduced a little in size next year but will need nearly two billion dollars more than this year.

Wilson indicated at a news conference Friday the number of men in uniform next year may be from 100,000 to 168,000 below the present strength of 2,800,000 men.

But defense spending is expected to incraese 4 to 6 per cent, in the range of from 1½ to two billion dollars, over the present 36½ billion dollar rate, he added. The increase will be "certainly less than 10 per cent," he said.

Asked whether the present Air Force goal of 137 wings by next June 30 will be reduced, he replied "I don't think anybody knows at the moment."

Without mentioning the Democratic presidential nominee by name, Wilson criticized suggestions by Adlai E. Stevenson that this country take the lead in seeking to halt H-bomb tests if other atomic powers agree, and that the possibility of ending the draft may be approaching.

"I think that both these things are irresponsible approaches to some very practicle and realistic matters," Wilson replied to a question.

Wilson said atomic weapons control has been discussed at high levels and "there is nothing on a unilateral basis that we can safely do that will affect this business."

As for the draft, he said, he does not believe that more than one half the present uniformed strength could be kept up without it.

word for it—the President had in effect asked for his selection."

Stevenson made this statements at an impromptu news conference at the airport. Stevenson left shortly afterward for his Libertyville farm, where he said he expected to "pick out some sheep to sell," and rest up for his next campaign trip.

It starts next Tuesday and will take him by whistle-stopping train through Michigan, and northern Ohio, and by airplane to Kentucky and Indiana, winding up at South Bend next Saturday at the Notre Dame-Michigan State football game.

Stevenson's call for ending H-bomb tests was his big gun in his 5-day aerial stumping tour of the Far West. The total 55 electoral votes all went to Eisenhow-34 in 1952.

Made These Points

In his windup speech last night at San Diego he sought to make these other points before a cheering crowd of 4,700.

1. Eisenhower has failed as a leader and, if re-elected, would be "a lame duck president" since law prohibits a third term. Therefore a vote for Eisenhower is a vote for Vice President Nixon as "the new head of the Republican party."

2. Eisenhower is a Republican "indistinguishable" from the party leadership and "the Republican old guard still rides high." He said after a few feeble tries at it Eisenhower evidently long since has given up the job of making over the Republican party.

3. Under Eisenhower national policy is "stalled or dead center," there is "a paralysis of will" and "something has gone out of American life . . . something that gave people's lives meaning and dignity."

5 Juvenile Escapees Returned To Warren

LISBON — The five youths who escaped from the detention home at Warren Thursday afternoon and who were captured in Carrollton Friday after an all-night hunt, were returned to Warren this morning.

The youths had been in the detention room in Columbiana County jail but were turned over to juvenile officers from Warren this morning.

Tallamy To Head U.S. Road Construction

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Bertram D. Tallamy says his new job as head of an all-out, nationwide highway-construction program will be "a terrific challenge."

President Eisenhower appointed Tallamy Friday to direct the federal operation that has a budget of 33 billion dollars—most of it for a 41,000-mile network of interstate highways.

The new road boss is 54, silver-haired, husky, married and the father of one son, also an engineer.

Tallamy is a 1925 graduate of Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, a Republican, onetime New York public works chief and, since 1950, the guiding force behind the world's longest toll superhighway —the New York State Thruway.

Tallamy's appointment is subject to Senate confirmation. He'll serve at the pleasure of the President and will report to Secretary of Commerce Weeks, who called the new highway boss "one of the world's greatest builders of roads."

"I got the head of the biggest company I could go to, General Motors, and said, 'will you come in and do this for us?' I think he has been doing a good job."

In contrast, then, he mentioned Secretary of Agriculture Benson and pictured him as a man "I suppose, (who) hasn't a cent, . . . I know he is a poor man." The President added:

"Now, that is the kind of people we have, all kinds of people, in that cabinet, and I assure you that they are doing one thing—they are working day and night for your benefit, yours and mine."

Eisenhower held his TV news conference a few hours after the White House announced he has addd two more speeches to his campaign schedule—a major address in New York's Madison Square Garden the evening of Oct. 25, and an informal mid-day talk at Denver's airport Oct. 19. The latter talk is an addition to those he will make on a tour to the West Coast starting next Tuesday.

Tonight the President will make still another appearance on nationwide TV — 9 p.m., EST, CBS. He will take part in a half hour program marking celebration of his 66th birthday on Sunday.

Cpl. R. J. Bille Convicted Of Hitting Recruit

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP) — Cpl. Richard J. Bille, convicted by a special court-martial of slugging a recruit, insisted at this Marine training depot today that "I didn't do it. What more can I say?"

Bille, 21-year-old former bakery worker from Erie, Pa., was sentenced Friday to two months imprisonment at hard labor and forfeiture of $65 of his pay for two months. He also will be reduced to private.

The charges were brought by Pvt. Donald Hamisfar of Norwalk, Ohio. Hamisfar said Bille punched him in the stomach because he did not say "sir" to the corporal. Hamisfar entered the U.S. Naval Hospital at nearby Beaufort five days after the run-in with Bille. Medical officers operated on him for a hernia condition, saying Hamisfar was born with it. They could not say, however, whether the condition was aggravated by a blow in the stomach.

"What can I say. As well as I remember it, I didn't do it. I think I pushed him, but I didn't punch him."

Hamisfar had testified that while his platoon was drawing equipment, Bille, a supply corporal, held up a haversack and asked whether the recruit had it. Hamisfar said he replied he did not have one.

Then, Hamisfar testified, Bille punched him in the stomach.

Bille's testimony and that of several others differed. Bille said Hamisfar actually was standing on a haversack when he asked the question, and that he pushed the recruit off the package, at the same time stooping to pick it up.

Proposed Regulations For Ohio Optometrists Hit Legal Snag

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Proposed new regulations for the state's optometrists hit a legal snag today and a hearing on the new rules was called off abruptly.

Mervyn Kauhl of Cleveland, president of the State Board of Optometry, said as interested persans gathered for the hearing that because of a legal question on the board's procedure, "It would serve no purpose to hold the hearing at this time."

Kauhl told a questioner from the audience the decision to cancel the hearing was reached Friday night at a meeting of the board at a Columbus hotel.

Asked directly by newsmen whether the board also reached a definite decision to refile the proposed new regulations with the secretary of state, Kauhl replied: "No."

In advance of the scheduled hearing, the proposed new rules had come under attack by the Ohio Newspaper Assn. (ONA). The ONA president, G. Gordon Strong, who also is president of Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc., had declared the regulations "would provide for censorship of advertising and would be in direct contradiction to many advertising methods and practices widely used and accepted in the advertising field today."

The newspaper group said the new regulations would seek to restrict competition within the optometry field and eliminate all types of advertising, including price of spectacles, except such minimum advertising as may be approved by the optometry board.

The legal snag on which the board based its decision to cancel the hearing was this:

The Administrative Procedures Act requires proposed regulations to be filed with the secretary of state. The optometry board's rules go further and require that the time and place of the hearing on such proposed rules be filed with the regulations when they are deposited with the secretary of state. The board, however, failed to follow its own rule and the time and place of the hearing were not mentioned in the documents filed with the secretary of state.

The attorney general's office advised the board the failure to follow its own rules placed any action it might take in jeopardy.
